PREFACE

Anyone who has attempted genealogical research in New Jersey is aware of the fact that the federal census returns for the state for the years 1790, 1800, 1810, and 1820 are not extant. Moreover, only a few fragments of colonial censuses exist, and many records of the colonial period – public, private, and ecclesiastical – were destroyed, or taken away by Loyalists during the Revolutionary War.

The only records that are state-wide are the tax ratables. Of at least 50,000 such lists compiled between 1773 and 1822, some 1,845 have been preserved. For the Revolutionary period there is at least one list for each of the townships into which the thirteen counties of the colony/state were divided. Lists for Salem, Sussex, Cape May, and Cumberland counties for the years 1773-1774 are complete; for Burlington County, only Chesterfield Township is missing; and for Gloucester County there are lists for four of the seven townships. For the years 1778-1780 there are similar lists for all but three of the remaining townships of the state – and for them the first existing records are of 1784 or 1785. To keep sharp focus, the lists for the three periods have been separately indexed.

Two successive lists have been incorporated into this index whenever possible, as individuals were sometimes omitted from a list, and because names were spelled differently even by the same assessor. For example, Dirck Setvin appeared the next year as Richard Sutphin.

These indexes may be used with the microfilms of the rate lists, either at the Division of Archives and History at Trenton or at any of several libraries in the state. The 1773/4 list has appeared in the Genealogical Magazine of New Jersey (volumes 36-40, 1961-1965); those for 1778-1780 have appeared serially since January 1966 (volume 41).

But unless we are especially interested in the economic status of a family or need to determine whether a person was single or the head of a household, we need not consult the original lists at all; these indexes help to locate an individual, and may therefore be used independently. Thus under the surname Garrison appears, inter alia, "John CDe*; CDo*& Jr); SaPl; SaPt" which tells us that six John Garrisons were taxed in 1773/4: two in Cumberland County, Deerfield Township; one of the name and a John Jr. in Downe Township; two in Salem County, in Pilesgrove and Pittsgrove Townships respectively.

For further information concerning ratables, see the Genealogical Magazine of New Jersey, volume 46 (1966), pages 19-22.

3 JAMES GROVER, son of James Grover, 1, resided in Middletown, where he was a wheelwright. He married Alice . . . . . , who evidently remained his widow, for, in 1739, she was a witness to the will of William Leeds, of Monmouth County. Her name was spelled Els Grover and she made her mark.

1760, May 14. James Grover was one of the appraisers of the personal estate of John Johnson, of Middletown.

1677, June 12. Governor Carteret granted to James Grover, Jr., of Middletown, in and about said town, six parcels of land, containing one hundred and ninety acres.

1686, July 22. The Proprietors, of East Jersey, sold to James Grover, Jr., of Middletown, one hundred acres, in Middletown.

1688, July 27. James Grover bought of Richard Sadler, a ten acre house-lot, on the highway, in Middletown, granted to the latter by Governor Carteret and Council, and twelve acres of land, at Cocowders, by patent dated June 20, 1677.

1701. James Grover signed the petition for a Governor.

1708, Nov. 13. James Grover, of Middletown, wheelwright, son and heir to James Grover, sold to William Winter, cordwainer, for £38, land, in Middletown, on the Southwest side of the Mill Brook . . . . . , bounded on the Southeast, "by the old tract belonging to the mill," containing, in all, one hundred and eighty acres; also one-half of the woodland by the meadows, both of which parcels were surveyed, by George Keith, the 10th day of Dec., 1685; and also one-half of the meadow, at Shoal Harbor, given to Richard Gardiner, in the will of James Grover, dated Dec. 1, 1685.

1711, June 11. James Grover, Sr., of Middletown, wheelwright, sold to James Patterson, yeoman, of the same place, for £150, land, bounded by Neversinks River, Mill Creek, and the lands of William Winter and Richard Hartshorne; also land and meadow, lying at Shole Harbor, in Middletown. This property was conveyed to James Grover, by the will of his father, James Grover, and by deed of William and Hannah Winter, bearing date Nov. 13, 1708.

1714, Aug. 26. James Grover, of Middletown, wheelwright, sold to William Winter, cordwainer, of the same place, all his interest in a tract of land, lying on the North West side of Middle run, and on the North East side of the Mill Creek, devised by his father, James Grover, to his son, James Grover, and his son-in-law, Benjamin Borden, for the sake of his daughter, Abigail Borden, and son-in-law, Richard Gardiner, for the sake of his daughter, Hannah; also land, at Shoal Harbor; also "the Housings, Mill stones and all the Iron work, with all the utensils belonging to the old mill, with all the Premises, Liberties, Priviledges, and Appurtenances, belonging to the said Land, on the north west side of the middle run," etc.

1714, Mch. 3. James Grover, Jr., and Safety Grover were Freeholders.
Freehold Records.

1715, May 11. James Patterson recorded the "Ear-mark that was formerly his Grandfather James Grover."

140 Lucy Morford; married Charles Blakely.
141 Sarah Morford
142 Harold Morford

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES

In 1878, Miss Morford, of Lynchburg, Va., wrote that her grandfather, (and she was then very aged), was Zebulon Morford, "who was the first one in the country"; that he settled at Cranbury, N. J. His sons, Stephen and Zebulon, settled at Princeton, and his son, John, at Middletown, N. J. This family was not of kin to the Morfords, of Middletown. It is possible she is right, but it is more likely they are an offshoot of the Monmouth County family. Miss Morford was a daughter of Stephen Morford, of Princeton.

1739, Apr. 17, O. S. Will of Henry Leonard; proved Feb. 11, 1739, O. S., stated that he was of Shrewsbury, Gent., and mentioned:

Wife, Lydia
Daughter, Mary Leonard; not twenty-seven years of age.
Daughter, Sarah Leonard
Daughter, Susannah Leonard
Daughter, Parthenia Cook
Daughter, Margaret Leonard
Daughter, Elizabeth Leonard. [She was, apparently, only daughter by wife, Lydia.]
Executors: Brother, Samuel Leonard, brother-in-law, Thomas Morford, and sons, Samuel and Thomas Leonard.

1772, July 24. At Burlington, N. J., Joseph Barber, of Pennsylvania, and Elizabeth Morford, of New Jersey, were married.

1775, Mch. 2. Henry Barber and Rachel Morford were married.
St. Mary's Church Record, Burlington, N. J.

1777, July 1. John Morford took the Oath of Allegiance, in Bucks County, Pa.

1779, Nov. 5. Geames Bound married Hester Morford. Reformed Church, Freehold, N. J.

1784. Thomas Morford, Overseer. Shrewsbury Town Poor Record.

The following Monmouth County Morfords were in the Revolutionary War.

John Morford, in Capt. John Walton's Troop Light Dragoons.
John Morford, in Capt. Kenneth Hankinson's Company, First Regiment.
Noah Morford, in Capt. Kenneth Hankinson's Company, First Regiment.
Joseph Morford; supposed to have died on a prison ship; a brother of William Morford.

It is a family tradition that he was captured and died on the prison ship, in Wallabout Bay, New York, and that he died of starvation. Provisions were sent to him by his relatives and friends, but each time they were directed to "J. M.," and there being another prisoner whose name was Jos. Morris, of Port Monmouth, N. J., they were all given to him.

Stephen Morford
Daniel Morford

James H. Morford, of Monmouth County, N. J., born 1850; married, Dec. 13, 1875, Anna S. Elliot, born 1855.

27 Children who died young.
28
29 Isabella Morris; married Richard Ashfield.
30 Sarah Morris, born 1695–7; died May 29, 1736; married Michael Kearny, born 1669; died May 7, 1741.

10 LEWIS MORRIS, son of Thomas Morris, 6, was born, by deduction, about 1655. He was called "Lewis Morris, Jr.," to distinguish him from Col. Lewis Morris, and also "Lewis Morris, of Passage Point," to distinguish him from his kinsman, Governor Lewis Morris, of Tintern Manor, Shrewsbury, N. J. He was among the early settlers of the Monmouth Tract.

In 1681, he was confirmed in his ownership of three hundred acres of land, at Middletown, as a "First Purchaser of Navesink," from the year 1670.

1682–3. He was Sheriff of Monmouth County, and Ensign of a Shrewsbury Company of Militia.

1690 to 1695. He was a Justice, of the Court of Sessions, in Monmouth County, as was also, at the same time, Lewis Morris, of Tinton.

1689, Apr. 15. Col. Lewis Morris conveyed to Lewis Morris, son of Thomas Morris, land, that he had acquired, in 1681, by purchase from Simon Cooper, and which was called Norransont or Passage Point. This land is now known as Rumson Neck, near Seabright, New Jersey.

1689, June 25. At a Court of Sessions, held at Middletown, on this date, Lewis Morris was among a goodly number of individuals accused of "running of races" and "playing at nyne pins on the Sabbath day."

Lewis Morris, of Passage Point, like his kinsman, whose name he bore, was aggressive, fiery and autocratic, and much embroiled with his neighbors:

1694, Dec. 25. The Grand Jury indicted Lewis Morris, of Passage Point, for striking Nicholas Sarah, of Freehold, and the Court issued a summons for him to appear at the next Court of Sessions, to be held, at Middletown, Mch. 27, 1695.

At this Session, the two Justices Morris sat, and Lewis Morris, of Passage Point, did inform the Court how matters was and submitted himself to the Bench; and was dismist.

Sarah was evidently much disgruntled by his failure to punish Morris, and abused Peter Tilton, one of the Justices, for which he was presented by the Grand Jury.

1694, Sept. 25, 26 and 27. The Grand Jury indicted Lewis Morris, of Passage Point, because he, "with several of his negroes, did feloniously take away the hay of William Shattock."

Apparently he little relished a trial by jurors, independent enough to indict him, a presiding magistrate, so that he removed the case, by habeas corpus, to the Court, at Perth Amboy, while Lewis Morris, of Tintern Manor, became his bondsman.

1694, Dec. 25. Then Lewis Morris, of Tintern Manor, and Lewis Morris, of Passage Point, by reason of their families were sick, did desire that they might withdraw and go home; which was granted.

Lewis Morris was killed by one of his negroes, in 1694–5, who was hung for the offence:

> It is ordered by the court that the negroes that are in the goal, for the murdering of Lewis Morris, of Passage Point, shall be conveyed, by the Sheriff, to Perth Amboy, to attend the Court of Common Right, on the second Tuesday, of October next. And that a mittimus shall be directed to the Sheriff, of Middlesex, to receive and keep said negroes.

29 Isabella Morris; married Richard Ashfield.
30 Sarah Morris, born 1704–5; died May 29, 1733; married Michael Kearny, born 1699; died May 3, 1741.

10. LEWIS MORRIS, son of Thomas Morris, 6, was born, by deduction, about 1655. He was called "Lewis Morris, Jr.," to distinguish him from Col. Lewis Morris; and also "Lewis Morris, of Passage Point," to distinguish him from his kinsman, Governor Lewis Morris, of Tintern Manor, Shrewsbury, N. J. 1689, June 25. At a Court of Sessions, held at Middletown, on this date, Lewis Morris was among a goodly number of individuals accused of "running of races" and "playing at some play on the Sabbath day."

Lewis Morris, of Passage Point, like his kinsman, whose name he bore, was aggressive, fiery and intractable, and much embroiled with his neighbors.

1694, Dec. 25. The Grand Jury indicted Lewis Morris, of Passage Point, for striking Nicholas Smith, of Freehold, and the Court issued a summons for him to appear at the next Court of Sessions, to be held, at Middletown, March 27, 1695.

At this Session, the two Justices, Morris, sat, and Lewis Morris, of Passage Point, did inform the Court how contrary was and submitted himself to the Bench, and was dismissed.

Smith was evidently much disgruntled by his failure to punish Morris, and abused Peter Tilton, one of the Justices, for which he was presented by the Grand Jury.

1695, Sept. 24, 26 and 27. The Grand Jury indicted Lewis Morris, of Passage Point, because he, "with several of his negroes, did feloniously take away the hay of William Sentrick."

Apparently he little relished a trial by jurors, independent enough to indict him, a gentleman and Justice, so that he removed the case, by certiorari, to the Court at Perth Amboy, while Lewis Morris, of Tintern Manor, became his bondsman.

1697, Dec. 23. Then Lewis Morris, of Tintern Manor, and Lewis Morris, of Passage Point, by reason of their families were sick, did desire that they might withdraw, and go home, which was granted.

Lewis Morris was killed by one of his negroes, in [illegible], who was hung for the offence.

It is ordered by the court that the negroes that are in the goal, for the murdering of Lewis Morris, of Passage Point, shall be conveyed, by the Sheriff, to Perth Amboy, to attend the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the second Tuesday of [illegible] next. And that a mittimus shall be directed to the Sheriff of Middlesex to receive and keep said negroes.

Upon his death, his widow applied for and received letters of administration, upon his estate, Apr. 1, 1696, which was inventoried, May 26, 1696, and amounted to £146–9–5. She was Elizabeth, the daughter of William and Audrey Almy, of Rhode Island.

Some years after Lewis Morris' death, Elizabeth (Almy) Morris married John Leonard, Esq., who died 1711–12, leaving a will dated Feb. 28, 1711; proved May 2, 1712, which mentioned:

Wife, Elizabeth, executrix.

Son, Henry

Son, Christopher
Daughter, Sarah
Daughter, Ann
Stepson, Lewis Morris
Cousin, Henry Leonard; empowered to dispose of the real estate.
Witnesses: William Lippincott, Francis Borden and Sarah Powell.

NEW YORK
1932

In 1700-1703, Robert Skelton was a Vestryman of Trinity Church, New York City.

In 1717, an Alce Skelton was a witness at the marriage of a kins-woman, Patience Lippet to John Wooley, of Shrewsbury. She was, perhaps, Alice Stout, widow of Robert Skelton, or if not, she must have been her daughter. It is certain that Alice (Stout) Throckmorton and Robert Skelton had one child, viz.: Susanna, for, in 1750, it is set forth in a deed, recorded at Freehold, that Susannah Skelton, wife of Barnes Johnson, in 1726, was a "sister of the half blood" of Joseph Throckmorton, her brother, and that he, said Barnes Johnson, and wife Susanna Skelton had a son Skelton Johnson.*

The name Skelton appears in Bucks County, Pa., where Robert Skelton, in 1748, was not infrequently alluded to in property transactions.

Who Alice Stout's third husband, Mr. Jones, was, I have not discovered.

5 JOB THROCKMORTON, son of John Throckmorton, 1, was born in the year 1650, (Sept. 30), probably in the State of Rhode Island, and was likely the youngest of the children. In 1667 he came to Middletown, and was allotted lands in the village and outlying country.

1667, Dec. 30. Job Throckmorton drew, in the first division of lands in Middletown, lot No. 22, and on Dec. 31, 1667, he drew lot No. 36.

In 1668, he recorded his cattle-mark.

In 1670, he owned a large tract of ground, in Middletown, to which he added a grant from the Proprietors, Nov. 18, 1676, which he subsequently exchanged for land at Colt's Neck, Jan. 7 [20], 1700, owned by Nathaniel Leonard, who was joined in the deed by his wife, Susannah Leonard. Each family thereupon took permanent residence upon their newly acquired domain, and the Leonards gave to their land the name of Leonardsville. These sites have remained in the respective families and have been their homesteads for over two hundred years. In 1700, when this transfer took place, Job Throckmorton was residing at Shrewsbury.

*1726, Oct. 8. Rebecca Stillwell, of Staten Island, widow, and John Coward, of Freehold, Send Greeting: It is set forth that the Proprietors of East Jersey, did convey to Joseph Throckmorton, now deceased, son of John Throckmorton, deceased, one hundred and thirty-seven acres of land, at the head of Millstone Brook Creek, Freehold Township, and that the said Joseph Throckmorton died without issue, and the land descended to his several sisters, as coheirs. John Coward was the son and heir of one sister, Patience Lake, deceased, and quit claimed to Susanna, wife of Barnes Johnson, of Middletown, "sister of the half blood to the above named Joseph Throckmorton, deceased," etc. These lands had been also patented to John Reid, Esq., late of Freehold, who received them, by patent, Aug. 8, 1701, and who sold them with warranty, Mch. 9, 1705, to Richard Watson.

In 1750, Col. John Reid, son of the late John Reid, bought out the rights of the heirs of Joseph Throckmorton, for which he paid £137, and William Watson, the successor of Richard Watson, paid to each, the sum of 5 shillings, as appears from the following:

1750, May 7. Skelton Johnson, son and heir to Susanna Johnson, deceased; John Lippit, son and heir to Sarah Lippit, deceased, and Thomas Stillwell, Jr., son and heir to Alice Stillwell, deceased, all of Middletown, convey lands to William Watson and Col. John Reid, of Freehold, patented to Joseph Throckmorton, deceased, July 24, 1693, who died without issue, and whose lands passed to his five sisters as coheirs, viz.: Rebecca, wife of John Stillwell; Sarah, wife of Moses Lippit; Alice, wife of Thomas Stillwell; Patience, wife of Hugh Coward, and Deliverance Throckmorton, who died unmarried.

1690, Aug. 18. Job Throckmorton appointed his brother, Samuel Leonard, attorney, in re his brother, Joseph, deceased.

1705. Job Throckmorton and Sarah, his wife, of Shrewsbury, conveyed lands to Daniel Applegate.

Job Throckmorton rose to eminence in the community, and filled many positions of trust.

Job Throckmorton and Sarah Leonard were married by Peter Tilton, at Middletown, Feb. 2, 1684-5.

She "died Feb. 5, 1743-4, aged 83 years, 8 months and 6 days," [born May 30, 1660], and her remains were interred in Christ Churchyard, Shrewsbury. The site is marked with a brown stone with the preceding inscription and is surrounded today by the graves of many of her descendants.

Job Throckmorton died Aug. 20, 1709, aged 58 years, 10 months and 21 days, and was buried in the Lippit or Taylor Buryingground, in the heart of Middletown village. The brown stone slab that marked the site of his grave was badly broken and fallen, but is now repaired. He left a numerous progeny from whom all of the name of Throckmorton in the United States at this day, descend, except the descendants of John Throckmorton, of Virginia.

Job Throckmorton, of Shrewsbury, Monmouth Co., died intestate, and letters of administration were granted to Sarah Throckmorton, widow, of Monmouth Co., and John Throckmorton, of Monmouth Co., June 8, 1711. The inventory amounted to £99-00-01, and was made by Henry Leonard, David Killy and William Leeds, Jr.

THROCKMORTON/LEONARD

I am looking for information on Sarah Leonard who died 5 Feb 1743/1744 in Shrewsbury, Monmouth and I believe is buried at Christ Church. I do not know who her ancestors were. I also believe her son Job Throckmorton b. 1696 Middletown, Monmouth d. Feb 1747 (don't know date) in Shrewsbury, Monmouth was buried at Christ Church and I can not find any information on his wife Francis Stout who he married in 1720.

RESPONSE:

"HISTORICAL & GENEALOGICAL MISCELLANY"
By John Stillwell, M.D.

Vol. V
pgs. 82-83:

Job Throckmorton, son of John, was born in 1650, (Sept. 30), probably in Rhode Island. He came to Middletown in 1667 and was allotted lands in the village and outlying country.

"1667, Dec. 30. Job Throckmorton drew in the first division of lands in Middletown, lot No. 22, and on Dec. 31, 1667, he drew lot No. 36.

"In 1670, he owned a large tract of ground, in Middletown, to which he added a grant from the Proprietors, Nov. 18, 1676, which he subsequently exchanged for land at Colt's Neck, Jan. 7 [20], 1700, owned by Nathaniel Leonard, who was joined in the deed by his wife, Susannah Leonard. Each family thereupon took permanent residence upon their newly acquired domain, and the Leonards gave to their land the name of Leonardsville. ...In 1700, when this transfer took place, Job Throckmorton was residing at Shrewsbury."

"1690, Aug. 18. Job Throckmorton appointed his brother, Samuel Leonard, attorney, in re his brother, Joseph, deceased."

"1705, Job Throckmorton and Sarah, his wife, of Shrewsbury, conveyed lands to Daniel Applegate."

"Job Throckmorton and Sarah Leonard were married by Peter Tilton, at Middletown, Feb. 2, 1684/5." Among the witnesses there appeared the names of Henry Leonard, Samuel Leonard, John Leonard and Mary Leonard.

She (Sarah Leonard) died Feb. 5, 1743/4, aged 83 yrs, 8 mo., & 6 days [born May 30, 1660], and is buried in Christ churchyard, Shrewsbury. The site is marked with a brown stone, and is surrounded by the graves of many of her descendants.

Job died Aug. 20, 1709, aged 58 years, 10 mo. & 21 days and was buried in the Lippit or Taylor Burying ground, in the heart of Middletown village. He died intestate and the inventory of his estate amounted to 99 pounds, 1 pence.

Sarah & Job had: John; Joseph; Job; Samuel; Rebecca; James (supposed); Mary, m. Daniel Grandin; Sarah, b. 1685, m. 1st John Powell, & 2nd Dr. William Nichols; Patience, m. Amos Grandin.

Catharine Crawford m. Nathan'l Leonard

Pg. 89:

Job Throckmorton, son of Job, married Frances [Stout?].
footnote: Frances, the wife of Job Throckmorton, by reason of her Christian name and her residence, "may" have been a descendant of Richard, son of Richard and Penelope Stout.

The burial record of Christ church, Shrewsbury, NJ says, "Mr. Job Throckmorton was buried in the church-yard Feb 24, 1747. No stone indicates, however, the location.

pg. 90:

1748, July 25. Frances Throckmorton, of Freehold, wife of Job Throckmorton, deceased, renounced her right as administratrix, on her husband's estate, in favor of her eldest son John Throckmorton. She signed with a good signature.

Vol. IV
Pg. 320;

"There was, presumably, another Frances Stout [besides the one who m. Wilbur Lippincott] who was perhaps a dau. of one of Richard and Frances Stouts sons, and hence their grand-daughter. This assumption, for such it is, rests upon the fact that there was a Francies ...., who became the wife of Job Throckmorton, of Shrewsbury, which given name, Frances, was apparently confined to the Stouts of Shrewsbury. This Job Throckmorton was the son of Job and Sarah (Leonard) Throckmorton, and also was a resident of Shrewsbury. Job and Sarah were m. 1685, and Job, their son, was born, by deduction, about 1690-95, and married, by deduction, Frances...., about 1712. If this reasoning be correct, Frances would have been born too late to have been the daughter of Richard and Frances Stout, of Shrewsbury, but would have been the issue of one of their children.

Vol. III
Pg. 177;

Alice Cox, dau. of James, by wife Ann, was born 5/30/1696; m. Joseph, son of Job and Sarah (Leonard) Throckmorton, who was born Aug. 4, 1693.

Pg. 316;

Jonathan Holmes, son of Jonathan, born 1682; d. 12/26/1766; m. 2nd Rebecca, daughter of Job and Sarah (Leonard) Throckmorton.; buried at Topanemus. Rebecca died, Nov. 10, 1761, aged 70, 9, 0.

WOOLLEY

I would be very much appreciative if you could look up a pedigree in Historical and Genealogical Miscellany, John E. Stillwell, (5 vol.- Early Monmouth County genealogy and records), orig. pub.1914, reprinted by Higginson Book Co. What I am looking for is the pedigree of Edna T. Wooley, b. 31 Jul 1796, father James Wooley/Woolley, b. 1749/51. At present I believe James' father was Stephen, who was in turn was the son of Emmanuel Woolley, grandson of William Woolley, and great grandson of Emmanuel Woolley.
The Stillwell source referenced above has an extensive article on the Woolley families in volume 5, pp. 425-506. Any information from that article would be very welcome.

MONMOUTH COUNTY

Tradition, and it is a most unlikely one, says that Thomas and Geoffrey Woolley came from England or Wales, (about 1620?), and settled in New Jersey. One of the brothers went to Cuba or the west, and never was heard from. While from the other brother the family has been supposed to descend.

The Documentary History of New York, Albany, 1850, gives the following information concerning persons of the name of Woolley: In 1683, there lived at Southampton, L. I., Robert and John Wooley, spelling the name with only one "l." In 1698, the census of Southampton shows Robert, John and Joseph Wooley; also Ann, Elizabeth, Hannah, Phoebe, and Mary Woolley. Vol. I, page 248, makes mention of John Woolley, in 1673, and H. Onderdonk's History of Roslyn and Hempstead, L. I., speaks of John Woolley, Sr., as marshal and constable, Apr. 1, 1686. He probably was father of the John Woolley who married July 6, 1728, Hannah Allen, both being of Great Neck or Hempstead, L.I.

Robert Woolley, first of Fairfield, Mass., and from 1653 to 1683, of Southampton L. I., was son of Robert Woolley and Theckla Pemberton, his wife, of Hertfordshire, England. Baptised at St. Albans, Aug. 2, 1615, he emigrated to this country, in 1639, and was the ancestor of the Woolleys of Springfield, Essex (now Union) Co., N. J. His sister, Ellen Woolley, baptised Oct. 15, 1611, was mentioned in the will of James Williams, citizen and merchant tailor, London, Sep. 7, 1620, as his god-daughter, while in the will of Roger Pemberton, of St. Albans, Hertfordshire, she is called his granddaughter, Robert Woolley is called his son-in-law, and Theckla, his daughter, is spoken of as the wife of Robert Woolley. This is seen from Genealogical Gleanings in England, by Henry F. Waters, as published in the New England Register, volume 43. From Progress and Public Processions of Queen Elizabeth, Vol. 3, page 81, is derived the following: Sir John Woolley, born Shropshire, graduated Oxford 1553; traveled beyond the seas 1557; became Secretary to Queen Elizabeth 1568; made Prebendary of the Church of Welles 1569; died 1595; buried in St. Paul's, London. His son Francis Woolley, died 1611. Sir John married, second, Elizabeth, daughter of Sir William More.

Whether there is any relationship between any of the foregoing Woolleys and Emmanuel Woolley, of Newport, Rhode Island, has yet to be discovered. Thus far the only thing we know is that the names are the same.

From Austin's Genealogical Dictionary we learn that Emmanuel Woolley was made freeman of Newport, May 17, 1653; May 13, 1667, he and others skilled therein were ordered to repair all arms brought to them by the Captain or Lieutenant of the Train Band of Newport; taxed in 1680, 3£-7-11; and May 4, 1681, the Assembly remitted his forfeiture of a bond of recognizance for good behavior and appearance at the last General Court of Trials, he not appearing.

The statement has been made that he came to Shrewsbury, N. J., in 1660, but the sole evidence of that, if true, lies in the fact that, to the extent of three pounds, he was one of the contributors for the purchasing of lands from the Indians. No land was patented to him; there is no warrant for any survey of land in his name; and no deed is of record in which he appears as grantor. It is, therefore, likely that the share of land he purchased was given or sold to one of his sons. Of his children, nine in number, all except the oldest and youngest sons came to Monmouth Co., N. J., Edward settling, at Manasquan, John, at Poplar, where he had many acres of lands adjoining those of his father-in-law, Thomas Potter, and William Woolley, at Shark River. Emmanuel Woolley married Elizabeth . . . . . . and had

3 Edward Woolley born December, 1655; Lydia Allen.
4 Elizabeth Woolley born November, 1657; married Daniel Stanton.
5 Mary Woolley born November, 1657: married, first, Judah Allen; second, Thomas Foreman.
6 John Woolley born October, 1659; married, first, Mercy Potter; second, Aug. 12, 1730, Rachel Clark.
7 William Woolley born Sep. 15, 1662; married Anne West.
8 Ruth Woolley born Oct. 12, 1664; married, Apr. 25, 1688, John Tucker.
9 Grace Woolley born April, 1666; married Jacob Lippincott.
10 Joseph Woolley born May, 1668; died Feb. 4., 1691.

3 EDWARD WOOLLEY, son of Emmanuel Woolley, 1, would appear to have been of Rhode Island when his first child was born, and not to have come to Monmouth Co., N. J., until about 1687, when his name is first mentioned there in a deed from William Chamberlain, Nov. 19, 1687, for his one-half interest in a tract of one hundred acres of land that had been patented to himself and Robert West, and for which a patent was duly issued, in their rights, Mch. 22, 1687/8, to Edward Woolley, of Shroesberry. He married Lydia, daughter of George and Hannah Allen, born June, 1660; described himself as a "hatter," in deeds given in 1690, and as a "feltmaker," in deeds of 1701; and signed his will Jan. 3, 1728/9, which is without date of probate. While in the township of Shrewsbury, he seems to have owned land at Passequenecqua, on Rumson Neck, and to have lived at Manasquan.

After living for a time at Shrewsbury, he must have gone back to Rhode Island, where two more of his children were born, in 1692 and 1694, and then have returned to New Jersey, where the balance of his children were born. At least that is the idea to be derived from deeds and from the records of the Quaker Meeting at Shrewsbury.

1692, Oct. 31. John Bowne, of Middletown, owner of one twentieth of one twenty-fourth share of the Province, gave a deed for sixty acres of upland and meadow, at Barnegat, to Edward Woolley, late of Shrewsbury, now of Rhode Island.

1696, Dec. 3. Lydia Woolley signs as a witness at the marriage of her niece, Mary Allen to Thomas French, Jr.

1699, Apr. 7. Both Edward and Lydia Allen are witnesses at the marriage of Joseph Parker to Elizabeth Lippincott.

1699/1700, Mch. 4. Samuel Webb, of the Island of Barbadoes, and wife, Lucy, convey to Edward Woolley, of Shrewsbury, various tracts of land in Shrewsbury township.

1727/8, Jan. 31. He was one of those to take the inventory of the personal estate of Nicholas Mills.

1728/9, Jan. 3. Will of Edward Wooley, of Shrewsbury, yeoman mentioned:

wife Lydia, executrix; second son, Edward; eldest son, Adam; son, George; daughter, Hannah, wife of George Allen; daughter, Content; daughter, Ruth; grandchildren, viz.: the children of Elizabeth, the deceased wife of Gabriel Stelle. Witnesses: Adam Brewer, Joseph West and Geo. Thornborough.

1. Joseph Woolley born December, 1646; still single.
2. Elizabeth Woolley born November, 1650; married Daniel Stanton.
3. Mary Woolley born November, 1652; married, firstly, Gideon Allen; second, Thomas Pearce.
4. Ann Woolley born October, 1656; married, first, Harvey Potter; second, Jan. 10, 1705, Thomas Clark.
7. William Woolley born Jan. 18, 1662; married Sarah Kent.
8. John Woolley born Feb. 10, 1664; married Sept. 29, 1699, John Potter.
9. Grace Woolley born April, 1668; married Jacob Applegate.
10. Joseph Woolley born May, 1670; died Feb. 3, 1691.

ROBERT WOOLLEY, son of Emanuel Woolley, it would appear to have been in Rhode Island when his first child was born and not to have come to Monmouth Co., N.J., until about 1687, when his name is first mentioned there in a deed from William Chamberlain, Nov. 19, 1687, for his one-half interest in a tract of one hundred acres of land that had been patented to himself and Robert West, and for which a patent was only granted, in Robert West's name, Oct. 24, 1676, to Edward Woolley, of Shrewsbury, he married Lydia, daughter of George and Hannah Allen, born June, 1650; described himself as a "hatter," in deeds given in 1689, and as a "shopkeeper" in deeds of 1693; and signed his will Jan. 1, 1709/10, which was proved June of 1710. While in the township of Shrewsbury he seems to have owned land at Passequenequa, on Jumping Neck, and to have lived at Manasquan.

Robert Woolley, being a son of Shrewsbury, he must have gone back to Rhode Island, where the most of his children were born, in 1682 and 1687, and then have returned to New Jersey, where the balance of his children were born, at least that is the idea to be received from deeds and from the records of the Quaker Meeting at Shrewsbury.

1680, Oct. 21. John Hance, of Shrewsbury, owner of one twentieth of the twenty-four parts of the Province, gave a deed for sixty acres of upland and meadow, at Manasquan, to Edward Woolley, late of Shrewsbury, son of Emanuel Woolley.

1681, Oct. 5. Lydia Woolley signs as a witness at the marriage of her sister, Mary Allen to Thomas Leeds, Jr.

1686, Oct. 7. Both Robert and Lydia Allen are witnesses at the marriage of Joseph Parker to Elizabeth Lippincott.

1687, May 10. John Woolley, of Shrewsbury, conveys to Benjamin Cook, of Piscataway, one hundred and twenty acres of land that had been bought of Francis Borden, the half of which was on the North side of the Manasquan River, the other half on Metedeconk Creek.

1688, Dec. 1. Samuel Wood, of the Island of Barbadoes, and wife, Mary, assign, to Edward Woolley, of Shrewsbury, certain tracts of land in Shrewsbury township.

1689, Jan. 2. He was one of those to take the inventory of the personal estate of Richard Mills.

1690, Jan. 6. Will of Edward Woolley, of Shrewsbury, proved; mentioned:

Wife Lydia; Emanuel second son, Edward; eldest son, Robert Jr.; George; daughter, Hannah, wife of George Allen; daughter, Rachel; daughter, Ruth; grandchildren, viz.: the children of Elizabeth, the deceased wife of Daniel Stanton. Witnesses: John Slocum, Joseph West and Job Throckmorton.

William Parker "Boatman Billy;" married Anna Brockman, born Dec. 23, 1751; died June 27, 1829.

Samuel Parker will signed Aug. 31, 1811; proved Nov. 30, 1815; married Content . . . . .; will signed Nov. 27, 1815; proved Jan. 9, 1816.

Sarah Parker married Mr. Warner

Elizabeth Parker born 11mo., 14, 1745; died Feb. 27, 1788; married, Feb. 24, 1763, Francis, son of Francis and Lydia (Woolley) Borden born 1743.

*His name is incorrectly written on the Quaker Records as Silas Parker.

52 JAMES WOOLLEY, son of William Woolley, 22, born March, 1718; died 1793; married by license dated Jan. 14, 1747, Catharine, daughter of John and Patience (Lippitt) Woolley, "spinster;" Daniel Woolley, yeoman, being surety on the bond.

1773, May 1. Mortgage given by "James Woolley and William his son, with their wives, Catharine and Charity," to Peter Parker, on one hundred acres of land, "in Poplar[S] Wompt, beginning at the Southwest corner of Thomas Potter's old Paten line, thence North according to Paten to road that leads through said tract, Easterly and Northerly along said road to William Woolley's line given him by his grandfather John Woolley, deceased, . . . . . as the Iron Mind Broock goes to where it emties into Poplar Swompt Brook, . . . . . along Thomas Woolley's line to the beginning. Bounded West part upon John Woolley & part Simin Badcock, . . . . ."

1776. The Commissioners of the Loan Office of Monmouth Co., gave a mortgage to Simeon Badcock, on thirty acres of land, in Shrewsbury, "conveyed to him by deed from Thomas Woolley and Elizabeth, his wife, Mch. 26, 1762." This was bounded in part by Poplar Swamp Brook, by James and William Woolley, and by Thomas Woolley.

1785, Mch. 10. James Woolley and Catharine, his wife, and William Woolley, their son, and Charity, his wife, gave a deed to Deborah Leonard, the widow of John Leonard.
Mr. Edwin Woolley, of Poplar, has in his possession a release from Peter Parker James Woolley, for ten pounds, dated in 1787, the boundaries of the land being the same as are given in the above mortgage of May 1, 1773.

1791, Dec. 21. John Woolley, of Shrewsbury, yeoman, deeds to Deborah Leonard, of Shrewsbury, widow, twelve acres of land, at Poplar Swamp, which, with more, had been conveyed to the said John, Jan. 3, 1787, by his father and mother, James Woolley and Catharine.

1795, Mch. 9. Benjamin Woolley yeoman, of Shrewsbury, quit claims to James, and William Woolley, the son of James, yeomen, all his right in a tract of land, "in consideration for a certain triangle of land lying to the Northwards of Potter's line, being a gore of land exchanged by my father with Willaim Woolley."

the conveyances by Leonards, etc., and has acquired more knowledge of the "Taunton Branch" of the family than any other person, living or dead. We sincerely hope, and have some reason to believe, that he will publish the result of his extensive researches. With profound gratitude I desire here to repeat my obligations to him for his great assistance and encouragement in my arduous work.*

I shall make no apology for the frequent use of the first person, singular, except that of convenience.

Rice Leonard was in Rehoboth in 1644 and one of the original proprietors of Attleborough in 1661. He had two daughters, Rachel and Sarah, and one son, Samuel, who died without male issue, therefore there are no descendants bearing the family name.

The descendants of Solomon of Duxbury, 1637, John of Springfield, 1639, James of Taunton and Henry of New Jersey are very numerous and are scattered all through this country. The evidences are very cogent, if not entirely conclusive, that all of them were related and from the same not very remote ancestor.

As has been stated, Perez Fobes, LL. D., knew the relation that the different branches of the family bore to each other. He was a native of Bridgewater—a descendant of John Fobes of Duxbury, one of the original proprietors of Bridgewater, and it is thought came to this country with Solomon Leonard. Dr. Fobes had a love for historical and antiquarian investigation and research, and possessed rare facilities for its gratification which he sedulously improved. He once wrote that he was acquainted with a man who had seen King Philip. He aided my father in fitting for college, was one of his professors in Brown University during his college course, and there was great intimacy between them to the close of Dr. Fobes' life, in 1812. He often spoke to my father of the connection between the branches of the family. If any written record was made of it by my father it has gone to oblivion with that made by Dr. Fobes.

*Mr. E. C. Leonard, d. in New Bedford, Mass., September 7, 1894, leaving in manuscript form a large amount of genealogical and historical material of inestimable value. A portion of this was ready for printing, and it is hoped his work will be completed and its publication not long delayed.

When in Europe in 1864, I visited Monmouthshire in the hope of finding some records of the family before their emigration to this country. I found the old records in Pontypool had been very badly kept and got no satisfactory information from them. Several persons bearing the name were living in the vicinity, and an aged man by the name of John Leonard, took me to the graveyard near the ancient church of Trevethan, not far from the town, where I found inscriptions recording the deaths, at an early date, of those bearing the names John and James.

A prominent gentleman, the acknowledged head of the family of Leonard, living in Buckingham Villas, Clifton—the beautiful environ of Bristol—and his family, took much interest in the matter. He bore the christian name of Solomon as did his father and grandfather before him. I was assured that not only this name, but also John, Jacob and Isaac, had been common in the family there for many generations; that they were dissenters and some of the family went to Leyden, and it was believed from there to America. In a correspondence with members of the family, continued for several years, this belief was confirmed.

I.

SOLOMON LEONARD.

The earliest settler in this country, bearing the family name, of whom we have a record, and the ancestor of what has long been known as the "Bridgewater Branch of the Leonard Family," must have been born about 1610 in Monmouthshire, or vicinity, in the southwesterly part of England.

He seems to have emigrated first to Leyden in Holland, probably with his father whose name it is believed was Samuel. There is some probability that they came to this country together—if so, the father must have died soon after. The exact period that Solomon emigrated to this country, and the place from which he embarked, it has been impossible to ascertain. Judge Mitchell, in his History of Bridgewater, says: "In 1629, thirty-five of the Leyden people, with their families, arrived at Plymouth, and in 1630, sixty more came. Many of the Bridgewater proprietors were doubtless among these."

It has been stated that he came with the family of Minister Robinson, but late investigations seem to prove that but one of the family, his son Isaac, came in 1631. It has also been stated that he came with Roger Chandler and perhaps Edmund Chandler, who were probably brothers. They were both taxed in Plymouth, (and admitted freemen), in 1633, and soon after were in Duxbury, where both had grants of land.

He was engaged in the service of the Colony Company in Plymouth for a time, but became one of the early settlers of Duxbury. Mr. Justin Winsor, in his history of this town, says it was settled by the people of Plymouth and that they were, many of them, of the highest respectability and in the colony affairs took prominent and active parts. Of the twenty subscribers to the civil compact, signed in the cabin of the Mayflower in November, 1620, who survived the fatal first winter, seven—Elder Brewster, Capt. Standish, Mr. Alden, Mr. Howland, Francis Eaton, Peter Brown and George Soule—became inhabitants of Duxbury. At one time it was of vast area, including within its bounds Pembroke, Hanson, Marshfield, part of Kingston, and Bridgewater.

The exact date of Solomon Leonard's settlement in Duxbury cannot be fixed. Mr. Winsor says the records show he was there when the town was incorporated, 1637. He had land at "Blue Fish," in what is now the northerly part of the village of Duxbury, near the bay.

The records of that period "that escaped the ravages of fire and flood," and notably of decay, from lack of proper care, are very meagre and imperfect, and so incomplete that the historian of the present day is often sorely perplexed and disappointed in his researches. I have ransacked all the musty archives and records of that period that are accessible and for those who may not have the opportunity of seeing the originals, verbatim copies will be given to some extent.

Hon. Thomas Spooner, in the "Spooner Memorial," states that Solomon Leonard was admitted freeman in 1643, but his name does not appear in the printed list of those admitted from Duxbury that year. He is enumerated among those "males that are able to beare armes from XVI yeares old to 60 yeares w$^{th}$in the Towneshipp of Duxborrow 1643."

By the Records of the Colony of New Plymouth—Deeds, Vol. I, page 113, September 16, 1645. No record of conveyance of this land "lately bought of Edward Bumpas" can be found, or of the lands of Solomon Leonard when sold by him. It should be stated that in vast number of instances at this period, and for fifty years subsequently, deeds of purchase were never recorded.

Page 153, March the 4th, 1647, is recorded a deed by which "Moris Truante Inhabitant of the Towne of Duxborrow and Jaane my wife haue for diuers Reasons and vpon good Conceiderations sould to John Washburne Inhabitant of the same

Associated with the renowned Miles Standish, John Alden, Constant Southworth, William Bradford and others—54 in all—Solomon Leonard became one of the original proprietors of Bridgewater and one of the earliest settlers there: Mr. Savage says as early as 1645, but it must have been some years later. The grant of the plantation by the Court was not made until 1645, and the Indian title to the territory was made by deed of "the good old Massasoit," dated March 23, 1649. The town was not incorporated as a distinct township until 1656. It contained at one time about ninety-six square miles of territory, the greater part of Abington and what is now Hanson, were included within its bounds, as well as the "Four Bridgewaters." —the North Parish being now the thriving city of Brockton.

The first settlement was made near what is now West Bridgewater. "Each settler had at first a grant of a house lot of six acres on the town river, then called Nuckatest or Nuncketetest, an Indian name in close affinity with that of the pond from which it flows, now called Nippenicket, formerly written Neapaneket or Neapnuncket. The first lots were taken up in West Bridgewater, and the first houses built, and first improvements made there: and the settlement was called after the name of the river, Nuncketest, or Nunckety, sometimes Unkety. These Indian names were variously written—in Governor Hinckley's deed of conformation, the pond itself is called Unketest. The plantation bore the more general appellation of Satucket. These house lots were contiguous and the settlement compact, with a view to mutual aid, when common protection and defence against the Indians should be required, and extended on each side of the river." [History of Bridgewater,] Solomon Leonard's house-lot seems to have been near the center. On this he erected a humble habitation that was probably the dwelling place of himself and family to the close of his life.

After a faithful and indefatigable search of many years it is hard to be obliged to say that no record can be given of the family name of his wife, the date of their marriage, or the births of their children. We only know that she bore the excellent name of Mary, which has been so creditably perpetuated in the families of her descendants. It is sad to realize that so much of our knowledge of the family is dependent upon tradition which is often unreliable.

They were undoubtedly married before 1640 and had a large family of children, most of them probably born in Duxbury and several dying while young. As they had aided in the subduing and settlement of the two towns, their lives must have been filled with almost ceaseless care and labor, with few conveniences and no superfluities. Their dwelling house, like others of that period, was probably made from hewn logs, with the spaces filled with clay; the chimney, of sticks or stones and plastered outside and in with clay, was built against one end on the outside of the house. Their clothing was of homespun woolen, flax, or hemp, supplemented perhaps, with leather made from the skins of deer. Their food consisted of various preparations of Indian corn, beans, rye or wheat bread, a few vegetables, fish, clams, lobsters, wild game, and in their season, the berries and wild fruit that were common in New England; beef and mutton were luxuries seldom indulged in, and neither potatoes, tea, nor coffee had been heard of. Their dishes, doubtless, were few and mainly of wood, with perhaps a plate or two of pewter.*

* A very vivid impression of the lives of the early emigrants to New England may be gained from the accurate and intensely interesting book from the press of Ticknor & Co., "The Pilgrim Republic," written by the late Mr. John A. Goodwin, and also from the stories by Mrs. Jane (Goodwin) Austen.

ance of law; but he taught, and they believed in a willing obedience to law, and in the speedy punishment of its violators. They devoutly believed in prayer, and trusted in God: but they also trusted in their own right arms to achieve their defence. When attacked by the Indians, whom they had treated with uniform kindness, they did not abandon their homes, as advised by the timid of other settlements, nor trembling wait for Omnipotence specially to interpose for their deliverance: but, seizing their weapons with resolute hearts, they attacked the foe, and drove him from their settlement."

Although all their lives deprived of the privileges of instruction by the school-master, and the appliances of the schools that afterwards became so common, Solomon Leonard and his family must have acquired instruction and growth in grace, refinement, and virtue, from the daily intercourse with their neighbors, some of whom perchance of more culture and intelligence: and the ministration, instruction, and example, of such pious, faithful and beloved ministers as Rev. Ralph Partridge and Rev. James Keith.

His name appears once more before his death on the Colony Records, Vol. 3, page 160, March 4, 1658–9. "An Inquest was held on the body of an English Man which some Indians took up out of the Riuer of Tetacutt, a little below Nemaskett.

"Wee found noe blemish about the man that should in any way cause his death, but as we conceive was drowned accidentally."

He was associated on the inquest with the following citizens of Bridgewater, nearly all of whom we find prominently connected with the early history of the town. "Samuel Edson, Nathaniell Willis, John Willis, John Vopes, Arthur Harris, John Hayward, sen$^{r}$. Mark Laythrope, Thomas Havard Jun$^{r}$. William Snow, Lawrence Willis, Guydo Bayley, Nathaniel Haward, and John Carew."

Soon after this period he seems to have acquired the respectful title of "Goodman Lennerson," which he bore until his death. It has been impossible to ascertain when this event occurred. He was probably buried in the ancient grave-yard

"It is ordered by the Court, that during the time of publicke danger every one that comes to the meeting on the Lord's day bring his armes with him, and furnished with att least six charges of powder and shott, vntill further order shall be given, vnder the penaltie of 2$^s$ for every such defect, to be leuied by distress, by the constable, by order of any of the comission officers, for the townes vse.

"This Court, takeing into theire serious consideration the tremendous dispensations of God towards the people of Dartmouth, in suffering the barborus heathen to spoile and destroy most of theire habitations, the enimie being greatly advantaged thervnto by theire scattered way of liuing, doe therefore order, that in the rebuilding or resettleing therof, that they soe order it as to liue compact together, att least in each village, as they may be in a capassitie both to defend themselves from the assault of an enimie, and the better to attend the publicke worship of God, and ministry of the word of God, whose carelesnes to obtaine and attend vnto, wee fear, may haue bine a prouocation of God thus to chastise theire contempt of his gospell, which wee earnestly desire the people of that place may seriously consider off, lay to hart and be humbled for.—

"Alsoe this Court doth order, that the people of Middleberry doe attend the like course in theire rebuilding and resettleing, as is ordered for Dartmouth."

The settlement at Dartmouth, 25 miles distant from Bridgewater, was attacked by the Indians several months before this date, many of the houses burned and the inhabitants slain. The people of Middleborough only about ten miles distant, all fled to Plymouth for protection and all their houses were burned. At a later period, Bridgewater was savagely attacked, but the people courageously and successfully defended themselves. Though very many of the men of this town were engaged in the war from the very beginning to its close it has been stated that not one was slain.

In the Records of Deeds of Plymouth Colony, Book 3, page 199, a confirmatory deed from Samuel Leonard to his brother John is recorded which states: "Forasmuch as my father Sollomon Leonard of Bridgewater while he was living did with my mother fully and firmly bestow on my brother John Leonard fifty acres of land being and buting on the south or southwesterly syde of Punkatest river next adjoining unto Elder Brett his fifty acre Lott that he bought or exchanged with Robert Latham on the one syde and unto my land on the other syde with all the meddow—and not having made Deed of Gift unto my brother John Leonard being prevented by death—I samuell Leonard—confirm—my hand and seal this first of the third month May 1671.

Acknowledged before mee Constant Southworth

The following is from Plymouth Colony Records: Court Orders. Vol: 5. page 179. October 27. 1675.

"In reference vnto the dispose of Sollomon Leonardson, of Bridgewater, deceased, the Court haue ordered, that such pticulars as belong to Samuel Leonardson, the eldest son of the said Leonardson, being firstly sett apart, viz. & fifty acrees of vpland, lying on the southsyde of Nunckatateesett Riuer, and twenty more adjoining to it, on the northerly syde therof, and twelue acrees lying att the town of Bridgwater, on which the house standeth, and three lotts of meddow, containing two acrees and an halfe, or thereabouts, to a lott, and fifty acrees of land appertaining to John Leonardson, the second son of the said Sollomon Leonardson, and all debts and dues owing to any from the estate being first payed, the Court doth order, settle and distribute the remainder as followeth :—

"Viz. & that Samuell Leonardson, the eldest son of the said Sollomon Leonardson, shall haue a double portion, with what hee hath alreddy receiued from him, of his estate, both real and psonall, according to law, and the remainder to be equally deuided amongst the reste of the children in equall and alike proportions, prouided that what any of them haue receiued of theire fathers estate be likewise reconed onward to them off theire ptes.

"This Court haue graunted ltres of adminnestration vnto Samuell Leonardson to adminnester on the estate of Sollomon Leonardson, deceased: and the Court doe request Elder Brett and M$^{r}$ Samuell Edson to be supervisors and assistant vnto the said adminnestrator, in things proueing difficult relating to the pmises."

In a search which I made at the Probate Office in Plymouth some years ago I found, among the miscellaneous papers that had "escaped the ravages of the war," the original bond given by Samuel Leonard to settle his father's estate. The following is a copy:—

"Know all men by these presents that I Samuel Leonardson of the towne of Bridgewater in the Jurisdiction of New Plymouth, Carpenter, do acknowledge myself hereby to stand bound unto the Govenor and Court of Plymouth aforesaid in the penall sum of one hundred pound for the payment of which sum well and truly to be made I bind myself my heirs executors and administrators, firmly by these presents, sealed and given this 27 of October 1675.

"The condition of the above written obligation is such that whereas the above bounden Samuel Lenardson hath obtained letters of administration, to administer on the estate of Solomon Lenardson of the towne of Bridgewater in the Colone aforesaid, weaver. If therefore the said Samuel administrator shall and do pay all such debt accounts, of his said administration, and be reddy to give an account, thereof unto the said Court when by them required and keep and save harmless the said Gov. and Court from such damage as may acrew unto them by his said administration That then this obligation to be void and of non effect or otherwise to remaine in full force strength and vertue.

Samuel leonard {Seal}

Signed sealed and delivered in the presence of
*William Bearsstow
Robert Stetson."

Why legal steps were not sooner taken to settle the estate we can only conjecture. Perhaps efforts to do this by agreement were made and failed. Possibly it may have been arranged to defer it until the death of the widow, which had doubtless now occurred, as no mention is made of her and no provision granted in the order of the Court.

In the administrator's bond Solomon Leonard is called "weaver." This is the only instance that has been found where he has been so called. In all legal instruments of that day it was the custom to name the employment of the parties. It is possible that he may have served an apprenticeship at weaving, in his early years and followed it to some extent through life, but more probable that he had become unable to perform the hard work of the farm and the last work he did was weaving.

Although copies of many documents have been given, it seems proper, before proceeding to the history of the second generation, to add the following from the Proprietor's Records of Bridgewater, Book I, page 92:

"The lands of Samuel Leonard John Leonard Isaack Leonard and Jacob Leonard hear in the town of Bridgewater February '79—Inprimis—Samuell Leonard is as followeth, twelve acres of land wheare he now dwelleth be it more or less being

At the top of page 93 is entered:

"Lands of Solomon lenord.

A long blank space is then left, apparently to make additional records, and lower down:—

"Five akers for Isaac lenord at the head of his twenty five acres where his house stands."

On page 94 is "A Plan of lands bought of the Leonards by David Perkins: laid out 21 June 1688." I was assured by Williams Latham, Esq., whose researches made him competent authority in such matters, that this tract covered a part of the grounds of the Bridgewater Iron Works. He also stated that the lands formerly owned by the Leonards covered a considerable part of the present village of Bridgewater.

A grant of land seems to have been made to the family by the Plymouth Colony at "Saconett" after the father's death and as the writer has been unable to trace it, he will give further records in the hope that others may be more successful.

It will be observed that in the early records the name is written in a variety of ways. Judge Mitchell in his history of Bridgewater, says: "The name was sometimes written Leonardson, Lennerson, or Lenner, but by the family themselves always written Leonard." It was quite common at this period to distinguish the son from the father by adding "son" to the name. In some cases the additional syllable was permanently adopted.

5.

ISAAC LEONARD,$^{2}$ (Solomon,$^{1}$) brother of the preceding, b. about 1650, probably in Bridgewater. He was one of the 840 soldiers that were in "Narragansett Fight"—King Philip's war—Dec. 19, 1675, to whom, sixty years afterwards (!) seven townships of land were granted by the State of Massachusetts. Fourteen of the number were from Bridgewater, and when their shares were drawn Oct. 17, 1733, only two were living. His share was drawn by his son Isaac. These grants were confirmed by the Legislature April 18, 1735. See Hist. and Gen' Register Vol. 16, page 143–5.

I have never been able to ascertain where his grant of land was located.

He was probably m. to Deliverance ——, about the close of this war. Deeds of land in Bridgewater made to him by his brother Samuel in 1677 and 1678 are on record, and we have seen from the Proprietor's Records that he had a house there in 1679. He seems to have owned land in Mendon, and was taxed there in 1691, 1693, 1695 and 1696; and may have lived there a part of that period. He owned land also in Worcester, and Judge Mitchell in his history expresses the belief that when he deeded his homestead in Bridgewater, April 17, 1717, to his son Joseph he may have removed to Worcester. He conveyed land in that town to Nathaniel Jones by deed in which he calls himself "weaver," dated March 27, 1717. The wife Deliverance, signed it March 7, 1719–20, and two days afterwards Benjamin Leonard (doubtless his youngest son), appeared before the General Court of Sessions and certified that he saw him sign the deed. Probably he had died about this period. His wife was also one of the original members of the Second Church in Bridgewater.

Their children born in Bridgewater, were—

In the deed which has been mentioned, his father conveyed his homestead "in consideration of love good will & natural affection for my natural son Joseph—Reserving ye uses & Improvements, of s$^d$ Houses & Land, unto myself During my natural Life." Under date of Dec. 13. 1720. Joseph deeded a part of this property to his brother Benjamin. in exchange for his homestead, and Benjamin conveyed it. by deed dated May 31. 1722. to "Eleazer Carver. Jr., Bloomer, of Bridgewater."

There were five Joseph Leonards living in Bridgewater about this period. and it has been impossible to identify each of them at all times.

By records of deeds it is known that they were living in Taunton, North Purchase (Easton) in 1713. July 13, 1713 Nathaniel Manley (son of William) calls him brother-in-law. Mar. 9, 1719–20 he had deed of land on easterly end of North Purchase of Jeremiah Willis of Dorchester and Samuel Smith of North Purchase. In March, 1726, he and his wife Mary convey their homestead in Easton to Eliphalet Leonard (all of Easton) for £245. July 23, 1727, Isaac Leonard of Mendon, Mass., buys of John Adams of Pomfret, Conn., 132 acres of land in that town for £300. Sept. 9, 1727, "of Pomfret, Conn.," he sells to Thomas Randall land in Easton, and Jan. 4, 1729, "late of Easton, Mass., now of Pomfret, Conn.," he sells to Eliphalet Leonard ⅛ of an iron mine in Easton. Miss Larned in History of Windham County, Conn., states that Isaac Leonard, Senior, Junior, and David and Thomas lived in Pomfret in 1731, also that Joseph and wife and Isaac and wife (?) were members of the Second Church when formed in 1734.

He bought other lands here, but Feb. 9, 1735–6, for £800 he sold out to Isaac Parks and no further trace of him or his family can be found. As previously stated he was in Boston Oct. 17, 1733, and drew the share of land coming to his father as one of the soldiers in the Narragansett fight.

He had children—

*Guido and Joseph Bailey are supposed to have been brothers. Mitchell says Guido was among the first settlers of Bridgewater, took oath of fidelity 1657; first lived in W. B. afterwards in S. B.; in 1696 sold his place to his nephew Manasseh Marston of Salem: the selectmen consenting to it, to whom he from age and infirmity had previously applied for assistance: Marston to maintain him and his dau. Mary. He d. about 1700; wife's name was Ruth; had Guido, d. about 1690; Mary m. 1, a Randall, and m. 2, Isaac Leonard; she conveyed 20 acres of land to her cousin Marston, 1697, who was to take care of her and he conveyed it to Leonard in 1702; Ruth m. Ebenezer Hill 1684; Elizabeth m. James Harris 1693. [Mitchell's Bridgewater, p. 107.] Of Joseph Bailey we learn that he was in the Narragansett fight and that in 1735 "Ebenezer Hill for his uncle Joseph Bailey" and "Ebenezer Hill for his father Ebenezer" claimed to be the eldest male heir when appearing among the 840 who had seven townships allowed them. I think this is the Ebenezer who m. Susanna, dau. of Jacob Leonard[2] and that Mitchell was in error when he makes him "s. of Jonathan.[1]"

William and Hannah (Gilbert)* Phillips of Taunton. He was a member of the Second Church and had trouble with Rev. Benjamin Allen, as the following record shows:

"On the 21 March 1721 The Chh. met and ye Occasion of it was some reflecting words spoken by Benj. Lennard against the pastor When he made ye following Confession and was forgiven by ye Chh.

"I must needs Own $y^t$ I have not attended ye rule in being so rash as & unadvised in taking up and publishing a groundless report against my Pastor Mr. Benjamin Allen with respect to his wronging my uncle Samuel Lennard about Twenty five pounds I desire forgiveness from God & from Mr. Allen and from the whole Chh. hoping I shall be more Carefull of him of them & of my self for time to Come—Benjamin Lennard owned this before ye Chh.

Attest Benj. Allen Pastor."

By record of deeds Dec. 13, 1720, and May 31, 1722, he and his wife Hannah convey to Joseph Leonard and Eleazer Carver their homestead and other lands in Bridgewater, and at the latter date bought a part of the homestead of William Phillips (her father) deceased, to which they removed before July 1, 1723. This was in that part of Taunton that became Dighton in 1712 and Berkley in 1735. Deeds of purchases and sales of lands by them are on record up to 1723. It is evident his wife Hannah died about 1730 and he m. 2, June 13, 1734 Mary Cudworth, b. Nov. 14, 1702, dau. of James and Betty (Hatch) Cudworth. Under date of Mar. 16, 1737 Benjamin Leonard and wife Mary of Berkley for £620 sell to John Paul of B. "my homestead where I now dwell in Berkley." Nov. 2, 1738, Benjamin and wife Mary of Berkley sold a tract of land and meadow to Elkanah Babbit.

The children of Benjamin and Hannah were—that some of the capitalists who started iron works in Morris and Hunterdon a century to a century-and-a-half ago may have engaged Leonards to aid in superintending their works. The first of the family who came to New Jersey, came about the year 1674 to aid in establishing the iron works in old Shrewsbury township, Monmouth county--the first iron works established in New Jersey.

"It is certain that members of the Leonard family were quite ancient settlers at Mendham. Benjamin Leonard of Mendham was married to Martha Haines of ye town of Morristown, March 8, 1750. Ephraim Leonard of Mendham was married to Hannah Hinds January 2nd, 1753; both by the pastor of the old First Presbyterian Church of Morristown."

Quite a number of Leonard descendants are found in Canada, and of them Mr. Edwin Salter of Washington, D. C. thus writes:

"In the list of grantees of Parr Town, 1783, found in Mr. Lawrence's 'Foot Prints,' are found the names of Thomas Leonard, George Leonard and George Leonard, jr., and notices of them are found in preceding pages of the book. On page 21, it is said that Hon. George Leonard was born at Plymouth, New England.

"The Leonards of New England and New Jersey were of common origin. Among the Loyalists of New Jersey whose property was confiscated during the Revolution, were Thomas Leonard, a leading citizen of Freehold, Monmouth County, N. J., who is supposed to be the one named as number one among the grantees at Parr Town, and his son John, Joseph and John Leonard of Dover, all of the same county. On the side of those opposed to the Loyalists, between twenty and

The long list of Leonards in Morris county settled there previous to the Revolutionary war, must have had an origin from several lines of the Massachusetts branch. It is not improbable that Ephraim Leonard of the Bridgewater, Mass., family, emigrated thither about 1740, and it may be he was one of the progenitors of the many hitherto detached and unconnected families of this name in the northern part of New Jersey. For about this date, 1735 to 1745, there were numerous others of the New England Leonards moving into the recently organized county of Morris, set off from old Hunterdon 1738-9 and embracing at that time present Sussex and Warren counties.

"Among the earliest of these untraced pioneer settlers was Enoch Leonard, of Mendham, who made a will September 16, 1757, in which he bequeaths to wife Elizabeth all his New England estate, clearly indicating the original birthplace of his ancestors.

"From reliable records the following marriages are obtained of other Leonards whose genealogical chain is unlinked. Caleb Leonard, born 1725, of Roxiticus (aboriginal name for Mendham) was married January 27, 1748, to Jemima Menthorne; March 8, 1750, Benjamin Leonard was married to Martha Haines of Morristown; Ephraim Leonard married January 2, 1753, Hannah Hinds, of Mendham, Jemima Leonard (Axtell) of Taunton, Mass., who had married in 1737 Henry Axtell, moved to the vicinity of Mendham in 1740 and her father also, with his family emigrated the same year from Massachusetts. A few years later are found the names of Sarah Leonard married 1755, January 2, to John Pitney in Morristown. February 24, 1756, Dorothea Leonard married Israel Aber. Hannah Leonard, in 1761, married Jesse Muir, and August 22, 1764, Mary Leonard married Isaac Woodruff. A little later still, the records show that David Leonard married April 23, 1778, Phebe Lum, and Hannah Leonard, on the 24th day of May, 1778, married Matthias Lum.

"Some of the descendants of Caleb (born 1725) and Jemima Leonard, of Mendham, Morris county, N. J., mentioned in the preceding paragraph, are herewith given. There were nine children: (1) Caleb Leonard, jr., born 1750, lived to be 100 years old, had sons Daniel, Joseph and Zenas, with grandson by Daniel, named William; by Joseph there were two grandsons, Zenas and David, and by Zenas there were three, Joseph, Isaac and Abijah. His daughters were Rhoda (Thomas), Mary (Adbert) and Sarah (Bell. (2) Isaac Leonard born March 18, 1735, married 1773 Jemima Parkhurst and about same time emigrated to Pigeon Creek, Washington county, Penn. Their children were ten in number and by two sons, Abner and Isaac, had the following grandsons: Son Abner born 1787, married 1808 Elizabeth Betterman and had Hiram, married Elizabeth Patterson; Aaron, married Caroline R. Chamberlain; Levi, David married Mary S. Dustin and Rev. Isaac married Charlotte Chamberlain; son Isaac born 1790 had Benjamin, Abner and Isaac. The daughters of Isaac and Jemima Leonard were Eunice (Condict), Hannah (Cory), Jemima (Cary), Mary (Tuttle), Lydia (Clause), Rhoda (Conrad), and there were two boys died in childhood, David born 1776 and Silas born 1781. (3) Silas Leonard born 1755 had sons Caleb, Robert, Silas, Isaac, Abner and Stephen, and daughters Sarah (Pierce), Hannah (Carter), Jane, Mary and Jemima. (4) Abner Leonard born 1757 had sons Caleb and Abner and daughters Mary, Sarah, Euphemia, Mehitable. (5) William LIPPENCOTT. This is another of the early Monmouth families, prolific almost beyond the numbering, many members of which have reached distinction in every walk of life.

RICHARD LIPPENCOTT (1), was the founder of the family in our State. He lived at Shrewsbury, where he died, Nov. 25, 1683. The name of his wife was Abigail, who died in 1697. JACOB LIPPENCOTT (8), son of Richard (1), married Grace Woolley. Their children were - Jacob (42), and, Ruth (43).

LEONARD. Among the families early prominent in Monmouth was that of the Leonards, who are said to descend from Thomas Leonard, of Pontypool, England, who was born about 1550. The early generations of the family in our county are involved in a good deal of confusion and some uncertainty. The writer, himself a descendant, has never been able to resolve all of these complications to his satisfaction.

HENRY LEONARD (1), of Pontypool, England, is believed to have been the father of James (2), and of Henry (3).

JAMES LEONARD (2), sup. son of Henry (1), was of Taunton, Mass. He was one of the original purchasers of 1667, but did not himself come to Monmouth. Some of his descendants settled in the more northerly counties of New Jersey.

HENRY LEONARD (3), son of supposed Henry (1), was of Taunton, Monmouth, and Cape May. In partnership with Governor Lewis Morris, and, I think, Thomas Moore, of Southhold, he was engaged in the manufacture of iron from the bog-ore found near Tinton Falls, these operations probably commencing about 1676. It is thought that he may have had two wives, the first being named Mary, and the second Hannah, the latter being daughter of William Johnson, of Elizabethtown, and widow of Joseph Holden. The children were: Captain Samuel (4), whose wife was named Sarah, and who died in Shrewsbury, 1702; Nathaniel (5); Thomas (6), of Shrewsbury. (It is believed that the name of his wife was Esther and that there were no children); Sarah (7), who married Job Throckmorton; a daughter (8), who may have married Thomas Morford; and, it is supposed, John (9), who died 1711, having married a widow, Elizabeth Moore; and Henry (10), who was twice married.

NATHANIEL LEONARD (5), son of Henry (3), married Hannah, widow of Joseph Grover and daughter of William Lawrence. His children were: John (12); Thomas (13), born 1708; Lieutenant Nathaniel (14), born 1712, who married Deliverance Lippet; and Nathaniel (15).

HENRY LEONARD (10), supposed son of Henry (3), died in 1739, leaving a widow, Lydia. By his first wife he had: Mary (21); Sarah (22); Susanna (23); Parthenia (24), who married a Cook; Margaret (25); Samuel 26; and, Thomas (27). By the second wife there were six children, one of whom was named Elizabeth.

JOHN LEONARD (12), son of Nathaniel (5), may have been the Captain John Leonard, of near Crosswicks, who was murdered in 1727 by Wequalia, a prominent Indian chief, in his own yard. Wequalia was hung. Captain John Leonard, by his wife Margaret, was father of Thomas (29).

LIEUT. NATHANIAL LEONARD (14), son of Nathaniel (5), married Deliverance Lippet. His children were: John (30); Nathaniel (31); Joseph (32); Samuel (33); Sarah (34); Annie (35); Captain Thomas (36).

CAPTAIN THOMAS LEONARD (36), son of Nathaniel (14), married 1786, Alice Lawrence. His children were: William, Joseph and Elizabeth. It was from this line that many of the Middletown families derive.

Aside from Samuel Leonard, a soldier of the Patriot Army, the greater number of the Leonards were Tories.

JOHN LEONARD, of Upper Freehold, was a prominent Loyalist and served with the British armies. He died an exile, in Nova Scotia. He married, first, Magdalen Ritchie, secondly, Frances Schooley. His children were: Magdalen, Elizabeth, Mary, and two sons, who shared their father's banishment.

ENSIGN JOHN LEONARD, who may have been son of the above John, was of Middletown. He died in 1801, an exile, in Canada.

CAPTAIN SAMUEL LEONARD was another Loyalist who died in Canada.

MAJOR THOMAS LEONARD had been Sheriff of Monmouth. He died in Nova Scotia. The British Crown made him a large allowance to cover his property losses.

York. In these various capacities he has displayed patriotism and enterprise, and is universally respected and esteemed as a public spirited, energetic, and progressive citizen. His popularity is attested by the confidence in which he is held and by the honorable standing which he has attained in the town and county. He was a Commissioner of Appeals in the Township of Union for about three years and Financial Secretary of the West New York Lodge of Foresters of America for about five years, and in various other connections has been a useful and valued citizen and a trusted business man.

Mr. Otis was married in 1883 to Emma Hoppelsberg, daughter of Frederick August Hoppelsberg, of Guttenberg, N. J. They have five children living: Henry George, Charles Carhart, John Edward, Walter William, and Cecelia.

CLEMENT De R. LEONARD, of Hoboken, attorney and counselor at law, is the son of Francis De P. Leonard, a grandson of John Leonard, and a great-grandson of Joseph Leonard, who was High Sheriff of the Colony of New Jersey in 1771, and who died in 1779. His paternal ancestors were French Huguenots, and, coming to this country about the time of the Huguenot War, figured prominently in the civil and military affairs of New Jersey. Mr. Leonard's father is an old and well known citizen of Red Bank. His grandfather, John Leonard, was a warm personal friend of Thomas Jefferson, and was by him appointed United States Minister to the Court of Spain, a position he held for thirty years, achieving distinction as an able and talented diplomat and gaining the confidence and respect of his countrymen as well as the esteem and friendship of the Spaniards. His mother, the wife of Francis De P. Leonard, was a member of the distinguished Lippincott family of Monmouth County, N. J., whither her ancestors came from Holland in the early settlement of the territory. Like the Leonards, the Lippincotts have been conspicuous and prominent in nearly every capacity in the State, and have contributed much to its professional, civil, and military welfare.

Mr. Leonard was born in Red Bank, Monmouth County, N. J., February 18, 1846, and inherited the sturdy Holland Dutch and Huguenot characteristics of his race. He received his early education at St. Charles College near Ellicott City, Md. Subsequently he took a full classical course at Seton Hall College in Orange, N. J., and was graduated therefrom with honor in the class of 1869. During the next three years he read law in the office of Charles H. Trafford, of Red Bank, and then became assistant to Hon. Robert Allen, Jr., Prosecutor of the Pleas for Monmouth County. In these offices he gained a wide and valuable experience. He was admitted to the New Jersey bar as an attorney in June, 1873, and as a counselor in June, 1876, and in 1877 removed from Red Bank to Hoboken, where he has ever since practiced his profession. He is one of the ablest lawyers in Hudson County, and the many important cases with which he has been connected as counsel attest his legal skill and attainments. He has built up a large general practice, and enjoys the confidence of the entire community.

A Republican in politics, Mr. Leonard has long been active in the welfare of his party. He was a delegate to the Republican State conventions of 1888, 1892, and 1896, a delegate to all the Republican congressional and county conventions in his district from 1888 to 1896 inclusive, and Chairman of the City Republican Executive Committee of Hoboken in 1894, and did excellent work. In 1895 he was President of the Ninth Assembly District Committee, and at present (1900) he is Chairman of the First Ward Association of Hoboken. In 1896 he was elected to the New Jersey Assembly by the handsome plurality of 2,429 over his Democratic opponent. He is also President of the Governor Griggs Battalion, an active and aggressive Republican organization. In 1898 he was the choice of his party for District Judge, but declined the nomination. As citizen, lawyer, and party leader he is universally respected and esteemed, and in every capacity his ability and sound judgment have won for him an enviable record.

EDWARD SMITH, of Bayonne, N. J., was born in Clarkstown, Rockland County, N. Y., on the 4th of September, 1847. His parents, Peter D. W. Smith and Sarah Pye, were both natives of Rockland County, where they were married.

Mr. Smith received his educational training in the Clarkstown district schools and early displayed those business attainments which have since marked his life. He first engaged in the grocery trade at Closter, N. J., and subsequently in the livery business at Nyack, N. Y. On the 1st of April, 1875, he removed to Bayonne, Hudson County, and established himself in business as a butcher, in which he was very successful. For a number of years he has been engaged in the liquor business in Bayonne.

In politics Mr. Smith is a consistent Democrat, active in public affairs, and prominent in campaign work. For three terms he was one of the School Trustees of Bayonne, and in that capacity rendered efficient service to the city and to the cause of local education. He is the founder and President of the Edward Smith Association, one of the leading political organizations in Hudson County. He is also Vice-President of the Liquor Dealers' Association, of Bayonne, a member of the Exempt Firemen's Association, and a member of Bayonne Lodge, No. 99, F. and A. M., and of Bayonne Council, No. 695, Royal Arcanum. His religious affiliations are with the Dutch Reformed Church.

Mr. Smith is a prominent and enterprising citizen, active in promoting every worthy object, prompt in the discharge of duty, and thoroughly identified with the best interests of his section. He is an acknowledged leader of the Democratic party in Bayonne and for many years has wielded an important influence in shaping the political destinies of his party there.

On June 23, 1876, Mr. Smith married Emily Gilhooley, daughter of R. G. and Eliza (Hoffman) Gilhooley, of Nyack, N. Y. They have four children: Frank, Ellen Tallman, John, and Mary.

LOUIS ALBERT MENEGAUX, a leading plumber of Union Hill, N. J., and a member and formerly President of the West Hoboken Board of Education, was born in Philadelphia, Pa., June 14, 1868. His parents, Charles Frederick Menegaux and Louisa Petchin, were natives of France and descendants of old and respected families; his paternal grandfather, Frederick Menegaux, being Mayor of Dembenois, Canton of Audincourt, where Charles Frederick was born. The latter came to America in 1853 and settled in Philadelphia, where he was for many years engaged in furniture manufacturing, and where he died in August, 1868. His wife, Louisa Petchin, who still survives, came over in 1855, and they were married in Philadelphia. He was a man of great enterprise, and highly respected and esteemed.

Louis A. Menegaux received a thorough education and a military train-

ANCESTRAL SUMMARY:

(3). Richard Chilton married Isabel (---) and had son,

(2). Lyonell Chilton who married a second wife, name unknown and had son

(1). James Chilton of the Mayflower

Will of Mary (Chilton) Winslow

BIOGRAPHICAL SUMMARY:

James Chilton, a tailor by trade, was the oldest Mayflower passenger, and one of the first to die after reaching the New World. He was born and raised in Canterbury, Kent, England and around 1600 moved to Sandwich, England.

By 1615 James and at least some of his children were living in Leyden, Holland. On 28 April 1619, James Chilton and his daughter Isabella were caught in an anti-Armenian riot and James was hit in the head with a large stone and required the services of the town surgeon, Jacob Hey.

He came on the Mayflower with his wife Susanna and daughter Mary. Susanna died shortly after James, leaving their daughter orphaned; she probably joined with the household of Myles Standish.

Mary Chilton came on the Mayflower at the young age of 13, and legend has it she was the first female to step ashore at Plymouth. She married John Winslow, who came in the ship Fortune, and was the brother of Mayflower passengers Edward Winslow and Gilbert Winslow.

THE MASSACHUSETTS SOCIETY OF MAYFLOWER DESCENDANTS

The Massachusetts Society of Mayflower Descendants is an hereditary society of descendants of the Pilgrims who came to New England in 1620 on the ship Mayflower.

Membership in the Society is open to those who can provide documentation supporting their descent from one of the 26 Mayflower heads of families known to have had descendants. Preliminary Application forms may be obtained from the Society's office at 376 Boylston Street, Suite B, Boston, MA 02116. Upon receipt of the signed preliminary application and check for the desired membership, a worksheet with instructions is sent to each applicant. Upon return of the completed worksheet with appropriate supporting evidence, the Society's State Historian and the Historian General of the General Society of Mayflower Descendants will review the application. Election to membership follows approval of the lineage.

Acceptable documentation includes certified birth, death, and marriage records, legal wills, registered deeds, contemporary Bibles, or other primary records. Secondary publications are acceptable when reference is given to the primary sources of information.

Adults over the age of 18 may become either Annual or Life members. Children under the age of 18 may become Minor Life members.

HISTORY

OF THE EARLY SETTLEMENT

BRIDGEWATER,

IN PLYMOUTH COUNTY,

MASSACHUSETTS,

INCLUDING AN EXTENSIVE

FAMILY REGISTER.

By NAHUM MITCHELL.

thought good by the court, that there be a view taken of the lands described by them, namely, twelve miles up into the woods from Plymouth bounds at Jones' River; and if it prove not prejudicial to the plantation to be erected at Teightaquid, (Titicut,) nor to the meadows of Plymouth at Winnytuckquett, (Winnetuxet,) it may be confirmed unto them; provided, also, the herring or alewife river at Namassachusett shall be equally between the two towns of Duxbury and Marshfield."

The next year the grant was made and confirmed to them as follows:—

"1645. The inhabitants of the town of Duxbury are granted a competent proportion of lands about Saughtuchquett, (Satucket,) towards the west, for a plantation for them, and to have it four miles every way from the place where they shall set up their centre; provided it intrench not upon Winnytuckquett, formerly granted to Plymouth. And we have nominated Capt. Miles Standish, Mr. John Alden, George Soule, Constant Southworth, John Rogers, and William Brett, to be feofees in trust for the equal dividing and laying forth the said lands to the inhabitants."

How the town proceeded in dividing these lands among the inhabitants, or how, by whom, or when it was determined what residence or other circumstance should entitle any one to a share, no record informs us; we are only told in subsequent writings, and particularly in Gov. Hinckley's confirmation, that the inhabitants settled this matter "by an agreement among themselves." They were at first but fifty-four, each of whom had one share, and were denominated original proprietors. Their names are thus given on the town records:—

William Bradford,
William Merrick,
John Bradford,
Abraham Pierce,
John Rogers,
George Partridge,
John Starr,

Solomon Leonard.

To these fifty-four shares the proprietors afterwards added two more, and granted one to the Rev. James Keith, of Scotland, their first minister, and the other to Deacon Samuel Edson, of Salem, who erected the first mill in the town, making in all fifty-six shares.

The grant of this plantation was considered by the court as preemptive merely, and as little more than an authority or right to purchase it of the natives: and accordingly Capt. Miles Standish, Samuel Nash, and Constant Southworth, were appointed to make the purchase, which service they performed as will appear by the following deed.

"Witness these presents, that I Ousamequin, Sachem of the country of Poconocket, have given, granted, enfeofed, and sold unto Miles Standish of Duxbury, Samuel Nash and Constant Southworth of Duxbury aforesaid, in behalf of all the townsmen of Duxbury aforesaid, a tract of land usually called Satucket, extending in the length and breadth thereof as followeth, that is to say, from the wear at Satucket seven miles due east, and from the said wear seven miles due west, and from the said wear seven miles due north, and from the said wear seven miles due south; the which tract the said Ousamequin hath the river, from where Seth Lothrop lately lived, down to Johnson's four corners, a little easterly of where Capt. Rider now lives. The proprietors or original purchasers, whose names have already been given were fifty-four in number, and were all inhabitants of Duxbury, excepting William Bradford, about whom there are some doubts. He is supposed to have been the son of the Governor and afterwards Deputy Governor. He lived in Kingston, near the line of Duxbury, and owned land in Duxbury, and, as it is said, attended meeting there. He was about twenty years old when the grant was made, but before the actual settlement of it, he was over twenty-six, and when the town was incorporated was over thirty. These were probably house holders, or heads of families; many of them were so certainly, and probably all. Deacon Samuel Edson, from Salem, was an early settler in the new plantation, and built the first mill in the place; and the Rev. James Keith, from Scotland, was their first minister; and the proprietors gave to each of them one share, making the whole number of shares fifty-six, as has been before stated. Of these proprietors, not more than one-third actually removed and became inhabitants of the new plantation. The rest from time to time conveyed their shares to their sons, or sold them to others, who became residents there. The following original purchasers became permanent settlers, viz:—

Thomas Hayward,
Nathaniel Willis,
John Willis,
William Bassett,
John Washburn,
John Washburn, Jr.,
John Ames,
Thomas Gannett,
William Brett,
John Cary,
Samuel Tompkins,
Arthur Harris,
John Fobes,
Experience Mitchell,
John Haward,
Solomon Leonard,
Mr. James Keith,
Dea. Samuel Edson.

None of these, except Bassett and Mitchell, were among the Plymouth "Old Comers" or Forefathers, who arrived in the three first ships, viz:—the May Flower, the Fortune, and the Ann; nor is it ascertained at what time they came over; but it is certain they were here very early. The names of most of them appear on the colony records soon after 1630. In 1629 thirty-five of the Leyden people, with their families, arrived at Plymouth: and in 1630, sixty more came. Many of the Bridgewater proprietors were doubtless among these.

The plantation was incorporated into a separate and distinct town in June 1656, by the following concise and laconic order of court, agreeably to the usage of those early times:—

"Ordered, that henceforth Duxbury New Plantation be allowed to be a township of itself, distinct from Duxbury, and to be called by the name of Bridgewater; provided that all public rates be borne by them in equal proportions:" and the same year this proportion was settled by the court, by the following order:—"The court have agreed that for the present year the town of Bridgewater is to bear one part of three with Duxbury, of their proportion of the country rates for the officers' wages and other public charges." And by a tax assessed about that time, it appears that Duxbury accordingly paid £6, 0, 9, and Bridgewater £2, 0, 3. The plantation in some early records had been called Bridgewater before its incorporation. The name was probably adopted from fancy, as many of the names of towns in the vicinity were, none of the settlers here, as we can ascertain, having come from Bridgewater, in England. From this period the town took its place with others in the public records, while its own have also been generally well preserved, which will render its subsequent history more authentic. John Cary was chosen Constable 1656, the first officer ever chosen in town, and the only one in that year, as it was not incorporated in season for the spring elections. In May, 1657, the town officers were John Willis, Deputy; Lawrence Willis, Grand Juror; Samuel Tompkins, Constable; Arthur Harris and John Haward, Surveyors of highways. The first freemen were

William Brett,
William Bassett,
Thomas Hayward,
John Willis,
Samuel Tompkins,
Ens. Josiah Standish,
John Cary,
Lawrence Willis,-
Thomas Hayward, Jr.,
Arthur Harris.

These had taken the Freeman's oath probably before the incorporation of the plantation. In 1657 we find among the freemen of Bridgewater, these additional names, viz:—

|---|---|
| Samuel Edson, | Mark Lathrop, |
| Francis Godfrey, | William Snow, |
| John Ames, | John Haward. |
| Guido Bayley, | |

These names assist us in ascertaining who were the first settlers in the place. Some of them, as Standish, Lawrence Willis, Godfrey, Bayley, Lathrop, and Snow, were not original proprietors, but most of them came from Duxbury, and had afterwards probably became purchasers. Josiah Standish was the second son of Capt. Miles Standish, and had his father's share perhaps; he married Sarah, daughter of Samuel Allen, of Braintree, and settled here, but after a few years returned again to Duxbury. Besides these and a few others from Duxbury, as Mitchell, Alden, and Leonard; there soon came in several families from the adjoining towns in Massachusetts, as Packard, Byram, Allen, Whitman, Shaw, Bacon, Kingman, Conant, Hooper, Hudson, Lazell, Dunbar, Hill, Perkins, Johnson, Leach, and others, as also Field from Providence, Alger from Taunton, Snell from England, Latham from Marshfield, and others from different parts of the country. We have been told that, before the two colonies of Plymouth and Massachusetts were united into one Province in 1691, and long after, a distinction was kept up in the town between the old Duxbury settlers and the Massachusetts settlers, each viewing the other, in some measure, as a separate race or clan. We never learnt, however, that it produced any unkindness or even unsocial habits, feelings of friendship and mutual courtesy having been generally observed and cherished among them.

From the west the settlements extended first into the south part of the town, towards the great pond on the road to Taunton, with which place they held their principal intercourse, where was the nearest corn mill, and whither also they were accustomed to go frequently on foot, with their grists on their backs.

Their proprietary concerns were managed in town meetings in the same way their other town affairs were conducted, and all the records and votes respecting their lands were entered by the town clerk in the town books. This was owing no doubt to the fact, that every inhabitant was at first a purchaser or proprietor. The first separate or distinct meeting held by the proprietors, of which we find any account, was July 9, 1672, at which they chose a large committee "to consider the manner to be adopted in future for laying out lands, and to report in October next;" and the same year application was made to court stating, that "some of the committee formerly appointed for laying out their lands, were dead, and others taken off by other occasions, and praying that they might depute some among themselves for that purpose," and the court "declared their willingness that they might so do, and in case the proprietors shall agree upon any thing respecting their lands, that the clerk of the town shall commit such their conclusions to the records of the town;" and consequently the clerk of the town was also generally clerk of the proprietors. The town also in 1674 "ordered that a new book for the recording of lands should be procured, and a committee appointed to see that the records were made and transcribed correctly, and on good evidence." Again in June 14, 1695. They "agreed that the town clerk should record all, that was of general concern to the purchasers, in their new book, namely, the preface, table, list of their names, court grants, several divisions of lands granted to be laid out by them, their general deeds of the Indians, and confirmations from the court, and lists of the names of the proprietors of all their land within their township, and to page said book. Chose also Lieut. Hayward and John Field to have some oversight of the recording of lands for the purchasers and proprietors." Hence it is that the same records sometimes appear on different books, having been transcribed agreeably to the aforesaid orders.

The outermost mile of the "old original four mile grant," that is, one mile in width all round on the outside of the purchase, was laid out in 1683 into four great divisions, one on each side of the town, and the shares in each were drawn by lot, by the original fifty-six proprietors, namely seventeen on the north, fifteen on SIMMONS.—Moses Simmons (sometimes written Symons and Symonson) of Duxbury was an original proprietor of Bridgewater, and sold his right to Nicholas Byram: he came over in the ship Fortune 1621: he had Moses and Thomas, and probably other children. Moses Jr. died in Duxbury 1689, and had John, Aaron, Mary w. of Joseph Alden, Elizabeth w. of Richard Dwelly, and Sarah w. of James Nash.—Thomas lived in Scit., and had Moses and Aaron, and perhaps others.—Moses and his w. Patience had Moses 1666 d. in Canada expedition 1690, John 1667, Sarah 1670, Aaron 1672, Job 1674, Patience 1676 after her father's death. Aaron m. Mary Woodworth 1677, and had Rebecca 1679, Moses 1680, Mary 1683, Elizabeth 1686, Ebenezer 1689, Lydia 1693; Moses m. Rachel Cudworth 1711, and had Moses 1718, Aaron 1720, Rachel 1723, Leah 1725; Ebenezer m. Lydia Kent 1714, and had Abigail 1715, Joshua 1717, Lydia 1719, Reuben, Peleg, and Ebenezer; Joshua m. William Barrell, and she died before 1750 leaving an only child, Joshua Barrell.—There was a Moses Simmons lived awhile in S. B. [see page 330, No. 69.], a descendant no doubt of this family. Joseph Church had a D. Abigail, who m. a Simmons as early as, and probably before, 1700.

SOULE.—George Soule was one of the first pilgrims and signers of the political Compact on board the May Flower 1620: in the general allotment in 1623 he had one acre and afterwards two more "at the watering place," all of which he sold to Robert Hicks 1639; in 1627 he and his w. Mary and s. Zechariah are named: he lived at Eel River, N. side the bridge, in 1638, and then at Powder Point, and removed to Duxbury before 1650; was a Selectman and Deputy there, and one of the original proprietors of Bridgewater: he sold his proprietary right to Nicholas Byram: she d. 1677; he 1680 very aged: he had Zechariah, John, Nathaniel, George, Patience w. of John Haskell, Elizabeth w. of Francis Walker, both of Mid'o., Susanna, and Mary wife of John Peterson probably of Duxbury, m. before 1672; Mary had been put out to John Winslow 1652 for 7 yrs.; he gave one-half his Dartmouth lands to Nathaniel 1658, the other half to George 1668, his Mid'o. lands to Haskell and Walker and their wives 1668: Zechariah d. before him, 1663, leaving a wid. Margaret; John Soule d. at Duxbury 1707 æ. 75; Edm'd Weston and Adam Wright were his ss. in law, John Soule d. at Duxbury 1734; Aaron Soule, merchant, d. at Pembroke 1783, who had one s. John and 5 Ds.; one, Leonice, m. a Brewster; one, Huldah m. Thomas Church; one m. a Dwelly. The descendants of this respectable ancestor are very numerous in the old Colony, and have spread extensively over the country. Dea. John Soule and others in E. B. [see p.304] are doubtless his descendants.

TUBBS.—William Tubbs, of Duxbury, was an original proprietor of Bridgewater: he m. Mercy, D. of Francis Sprague, 1637, and he or his s. or gr. s. William m. Judith, wid. of Isaac Barker and D. of Gov. Thomas Prince, 1691. Some of this name, no doubt his descendants, are still living in the lower towns of the County, but we have no particular knowledge of the family descent.

WADSWORTH.—Christopher Wadsworth of Duxbury was a Representative of that town, and one of the original proprietors of Bridgewater, and Capt. Samuel and Joseph Wadsworth and their representatives retained an interest and shares in Bridgewater longer than any of the non-residents. After 1685 Capt. Samuel's share is entered under the name of wid. Wadsworth; and in 1686, and after, Timothy Wadsworth's name appears.—This has always been a respectable name in Duxbury and its vicinity. The late Gen. Peleg Wadsworth of Portland gra. H. U. 1769, was of this family.

WEST.—Francis West at Duxbury 1633; m. Margary Reeves 1639: an orig. proprietor of Bridgewater, sold his share to Edw'd Mitchell, d. 1692: had Samuel, Peter, Pelatiah, Richard, &c. Samuel m. # FOREWORD

The following historical account of the Leonard Family was prepared in May, 1933, at the request of Mrs. J. C. Hartman, Historian of the Leonard Family Association, to be read at the annual reunion at Shelby, Ohio, on June 17, 1933. Being favorably received, many requests were made that the paper be reproduced in order that copies might be placed in the hands of members of the Association for future reference and the information of their descendants.

The data herein presented may be considered reliable, having been gleaned from published genealogies as well as court house records on file in various county-seats. Many books were consulted and a voluminous correspondence carried on in order to obtain authentic details concerning the origin and history of the family.

While the compiler was not born a Leonard, yet he has for many years been intimately associated with them, his father, Harry G. Blaine, having been reared in the home of William Finley Leonard near the town of Attica in Seneca County, Ohio. It was the writer's privilege when a small lad to know Avery Leonard, forefather of the Seneca County Leonards, then in his old age. The following pages are presented as a memorial to him and to his son, William Finley Leonard, in appreciation of their generous and kindly natures and the bounty extended to the writer's parent in time of need.

Much of the material used herein was furnished by Jennie Leonard Hutchinson, of Uniontown, Pa., a descendant of Caleb Leonard Jr., and due credit and appreciation therefor are here extended.

Solomon Leonard, progenitor of Caleb and Avery Leonard, was born in Monmouthshire, England, and emigrated to Plymouth, Massachusetts, in 1630. He was descended from a long line of Leonards resident in England and Wales whose ancestral vocation was the production and working of iron. The family name is derived from the Latin word "Leo", meaning lion, which in combination with the Teutonic ending "ard" signifies that the bearer is lion hearted or brave. Prominent Leonards in England were the Lords Dacre whose ancestral seat in Sussex called Hurstmonceaux, now partly in ruins, is one of the most impressive of the early castles of England.

Solomon Leonard is generally regarded as an uncle of James and Henry Leonard, two brothers who left Pontypool, Wales, about 1652 and established the first iron works in America, at Taunton, Mass. Solomon was granted land in Plymouth Colony "for services" in 1636. He later removed to Duxbury, later known as Bridgewater. He was a member of the company of Capt. Miles Standish. John Alden was allied with the same company. Solomon had a son named Isaac who was one of 840 soldiers who took part in the Naragansett Fight in King Philip's War to whom grants of land were made by the State of Massachusetts sixty years afterwards when but two of the participants were still alive. In this case Isaac being dead, his share was given to his son, also named Isaac. A wonderful story is told of another of Solomon's sons named Samuel who as a boy of 14 was captured by a tribe of Indians and held captive for two years. They taught him the art of scalping and on one occasion when out on a marauding expedition and all were asleep except Samuel and two women captives, Samuel with the aid of the other two slew and scalped ten Indians and succeeded in making his way back to civilization. A monument on the site of this tragic occurrence was erected and dedicated in 1874.

From time immemorial in England and America the name of Leonard has been identified with the making of iron--to such an exte that it is almost an axiom that "where you find an iron works there you will find a Leonard". The first works in America was set up at Taunton, Mass., by James and Henry Leonard. This forge remained in the family for seven generations and was in continuous operation until 1804--truly a remarkable record. As time passed and the iron industry became established on a firm footing, bring prosperity and prominence to the Leonards, they set up forges in other places which exerted a profound influence on the industrial life of the day and contributed powerfully to the successful consummation of the Revolutionary War, as munitions of war were produced in copious quantities in the various Leonar iron works. The anchor of "Old Ironsides" was cast in a Leonard foundry and the first bar of steel produced in America was manufactured by a Leonard at Easton, Pa. The plentiful supply ofbog iron ore in Massachusetts was a powerful incentive for the exercise of the inherited vocation of the family.

Incidents in the lives of these early pioneers in their efforts to establish a new industry in the wilds are of the utmost interest. The first forge at Taunton, on the Great Road, descended from generation to generation, as stated, but with frequent repairs, and was in continuous operation until recent times. Near this early forge stood the house of King Philip, that Indian chieftain so tragically identified with the first organized military struggle in the new land of colonist against aboriginal inhabitant. Now, King Philip and the Leonards long lived on terms of the greatest friendship, frequently visiting and trading togethe Philip was ardently fond of hunting and the Leonards were able and willing to keep his guns in repair. Thus they earned the chief's gratitude and when the Naragansett War broke out Philip issued positive orders that under no circumstances was a Leonard ever to be harmed.

A son of Isaac Leonard named Benjamin about 1715 married annah Phillips and became the father of six children: Jemima, ydia, Hannah, Benjamin, William and Caleb. Benjamin lived at aunton, Mass., which was Dighton in 1712 and became Berkley in 735. Hannah, the wife, died in 1730 and Benjamin having married gain in 1734 to Mary Cudworth, emigrated to New Jersey in 1740. more noted member of the Leonard family, the same Henry who with his brother James emigrated to Taunton in 1652, had previou ly removed to New Jersey, attracted no doubt by the plentiful supply of iron ore there. These two members of the family thus became the progenitors of a long line of Leonards resident inNe Jersey giving many prominent members to pulpit and bench and bar

Benjamin Leonard, the father of Caleb, settled near Mendham, Morris County. He is on record as a landowner in Berminster Township in 17~~0~~55 and as a taxpayer in 1760. The Morristown Pres byterian Church was but 15 miles distant from the Leonard home. Their records having been preserved in full, form a most valuabl source of information relating to the early inhabitants. The old graveyard adjacent to the church contains the remains of many early Leonards and families allied by marriage with them. The ancient name of Mendham was Roxiticus.

The oldest child of Benjamin and Hannah Leonard was named Jemima. This daughter having married in Taunton Henry Axtell, a blacksmith, emigrated to New Jersey with her father. Jemima Leonard Axtell is described as a very beautiful and witty woman. On their arrival at Elizabethtown, then the port of entry, they stopped at an inn where the innkeeper's son was much smitten wit the evident charms of Jemima--so much so that he asked her if he might wait upon her that evening. She replied that "she would see what her husband thought about it when he arrived." Jemima's eldest son, also named Henry, later became Major Henry Axtell of the Revolution. He died in 1818 and lies buried in Mendham churchyard. The Leonards and Axtells settled in Morris County in the township of Mendham, about 2 miles southeast ofthe village of that name. Jemima Leonard Axtell lived to a greatage and spent her last days with relatives near the town.

Benjamin Leonard's son, Benjamin Jr., lived and died at Mendham and he and his wife are buried in the same graveyard wit Major Axtell. The youngest son of Benjamin Senior and Hannah Leonard was named Caleb. He was born Sept. 23, 1726. The next youngest son was William, two years Caleb's senior. Caleb marrie Jemima Minthorn, a daughter of Mendham, in 1748. She died about 1768 leaving Caleb five sons and four daughters. The sons were: Caleb Junior, Isaac, Silas, Abner and William. The daughters: Rhoda, Jemima, Sarah and Hannah. Only one generation of Leonard of the Solomon stock was born in New Jersey, as in 1769 Caleb with his brother William, together with members of the Axtell and Rush families, allied by marriage, emigrated to the western frontier. In this they followed the general trend of migration after the close of the French and Indian War, which opened to settlement the lands of western Pennsylvania.

Their route led no doubt via Philadelphia and Lancaster to Fort Cumberland, thence forward following the line of the Old Braddock Trail to Beasontown, now Uniontown, forward past Redstone Old Fort, now Brownsville, to Washington County. They probably crossed the blue Monongahela at Redstone Old Fort--a most historic point. Here it was that Col. Burd, setting out from Carlisle in 1759 established a stockade. Here grew up the town of Brownsville which in after years became the point of embarkation of countless expeditions setting forth on the Monongahela and the Ohio to the newly-opened western country. And so the Leonards came to their new home on the waters of Pigeon Creek.

The beautiful and fertile country west of the Monongahela remained a closed land until after the capture of Fort Duquesne by the English in the old French and Indian War and the end of the war in 1763. The disastrous defeat of Gen. Braddock in 175 by a few hundreds of French and their Indian allies gave contro of the coveted territory to the French for a period of years. The site of Braddock's defeat is about 7 miles south of Pittsburgh, then the French Fort Duquesne, later known as Fort Pitt. An earlier incident in the same struggle was the action at Fort Necessity, a few miles east of Uniontown, where the young Col. Washington battled with a superior force of French and Indians. The scenes of these stirring and historic events lay but a few miles from Somerset Township, the site of the new Leonard home.

Washington County early became filled with an active army of emigrants attracted by the fertile soil and rich timber lands which could be bought from the Government at a reasonable price. Indeed, some settlers wholly dispensed with the formality of warranting lands and maintained possession of their holdings by so-called squatters' rights or "tomahawk" claims. Washington soon became one of the wealthiest and most influential counties of the Commonwealth and much of the travel to the new Ohio country passed through its confines. In 1794 the county was agitated by the "Whiskey Rebellion", the first serious threat against the sovereignty of the newly-formed nation. It is pleasing to note that this insurrection was suppressed without bloodshed, mainly through the influence and prestige of General Washington, then President.

It was thus to this county that the Leonards turned their way and chose for their future home. The beautiful and fertile Pigeon Creek district lies some 10 miles from the Monongahela River with its crossing at Brownsville, a place that many years afterwards was to give the nation one of its honored names--that of James G. Blaine. About 25 miles northeast lay the scene of the Braddock massacre. Due east some 37 miles lay Fort Necessit where the young Washington fought his first military action. William Leonard settled on Ten Mile Creek in what is now Greene Cou ty, but then a part of Washington County. He was the father of numerous sons among whom were Lot, Amos and Ziba. Of these we shall presently have more to say.

One can visualize the first hard labor of the pioneer entering the site of a new home in the midst of the forest. Land must be cleared for the planting of a first crop and the erecti of a cabin. Fences must be built and shelters for the stock. The Leonards must have led the life of the average pioneer in this respect but their industry was more than average, for they farmed their lands well and prospered. The many children of the sons and daughters of Caleb formed a veritable community on the banks of the Pigeon; their lands lay all together in one tract known as "Spicewood Thicket". The farm of Caleb Junior, with whom it appears that the father made his home, was situated in Somerset Township about 2 miles from the village of Bentlysville and about 6 from Beallsville, on the National Road. The house stands on what is now the Ellsworth Coal Company's property and a coal mine is now operated where once the virgin acres were broken by the wooden ploughshare. Little did the hardy pioneers suspect that many years afterwards the hidden wealth of the land would be revealed and go forth to the forge and factory of a later day to play their part in an astonishing industrial age. Near the present coal shaft one notes a group of buildings and in the midst of them an old two-storied log house. This is the original Leonard homestead. If this old house could speak what tales it would tell! Not far from the house is an ancient family graveyard in which repose the remains of several early Leonards. And thus they came, father and sons, and lived and prospered in Washington County, the even tenor of their lives broke: only by the onset of the Revolution. That historic and vital struggle that was destined to change the ideas of a world enrolled its full share of Washington County's sons, among whom were four sons of Caleb Leonard, viz., Caleb Jr., Isaac, Silas and Abner. They were enrolled in Capt. Craven's company of militia. Silas became a major during the war and Isaac a lieutenant. C leb Senior is thought to have been a frontier ranger or home-guard, as the older citizens, those above the military age of 45, were called. Finally the surrender of Yorktown signalized the peace that was to come and after the long war was over the young nation entered upon an era of progress that was to astound the world. But all unsuspected by Caleb Leonard and his worthy sons on Pigeon Creek a cloud was forming on their horizon that would threaten immeasurably the fruits of their toil.

One Thomas Stokely, a prominent man and an office-holder, later a member of Congress, was in 1796 Recorder of Deeds for Washington County. When Isaac Leonard brought in his bills of sale for his land for record, Stokely noted in them certain defects in that a power of attorney from Thomas and John Shepherd, the original patentees of the land, to their brother David had not been properly acknowledged; that another power of attorney had been lost., etc. Owing to these flaws Stokely advised the Leonards to put off the recording until after the defects of title had been remedied, which action he promised to take for them. However, much to his dishonor be it said, Stokely basely made use of his official knowledge in an effort to gain possession of the property, in this wise: after delaying the recording he craftily secured all details of survey from the original surveyor, John Hoge, and with this data in his possession started out on a journey to Shepherdstown, some distance east where the former owners then resided, withthe ostensible purpose of making good the defects of title in the interest of the Leonards. After securing a conveyance from the Shepherds, which he induced them to sign by the present of a silk dress to the wife of one and a pair of cheap ear-drops to the spouse of the other, Stokely hurtales it would tell! But for title the house is an ancient family graveyard in which repose the remains of several early pioneers. And thus they dwelt, father and sons, and lived and prospered in Washington County, the even tenor of their lives stirred only by the onset of the Revolution. That historic and vital struggle that was destined to change the ideas of a world enrolled its full share of Washington County's sons, among them were four sons of Caleb Hubbard; viz: Caleb Jr., Jesse, Elias and Abner. They were enrolled in Capt. Grayson's company of militia. Elias became a major during the war and Jesse a lieutenant. Caleb Senior is thought to have been a frontier ranger or home guard, as the older citizens, those above the military age of 40, were called. Finally the surrender of Yorktown signalized the peace that was to come and after the long war was over the young nation started upon an era of progress that was to astound the world. But all unsuspected by Caleb Hubbard and his worthy sons on Pigeon Creek, a cloud was forming on their horizon that would threaten inexorably the fruits of their toil.

One Thomas Stokely, a politician and an office-holder, later a member of Congress, was in 1788 Recorder of Deeds for Washington County. When Isaac Hubbard brought in his title of fee for his land for record, Stokely noted in them certain defects in that a power of attorney from Thomas and John Shepherd, the original patentees of the land, to their brother David had not been properly acknowledged; that another power of attorney had been lost, etc. Using as trumps these Stokely advised the Hubbards to put off the recording until after the defects of title had been remedied, which action he promised to take for them. However, true to his nature as it were, Stokely really made use of his official knowledge in an effort to gain possession of the property, in this wise: after delaying the recording he craftily secured all details of survey from the original surveyor, John Hoge, and with this data in his possession started out on a journey to Shepherdstown, some distance east where the Shepherd owners then resided, with the ostensible purpose of making good the defects of title in the interest of the Hubbards. After securing a conveyance from the Shepherds, which he induced them to sign by the present of a silk dress to the wife of one and a pair of silver ear-drops to the spouse of the other, Stokely surried to the land office at Philadelphia and took out a patent in his own name. Sometime previously the Leonards had grown to suspect Stokely's designs and on their part had engaged Thomas Wallace to protect their interests. Wallace hurried to Philadelphia in quest of a patent, but Stokely had forestalled him. The Leonards thereupon brought a court action against Stokely for malfeasance in office and petitioned the Court for the appointment of a commission to take testimony of witnesses as to their priority of right. This was done and all testimony is on file and forms a damning indictment against the machinations of Thomas Stokely for all time. His actions were the more reprehensible in that he had frequently been a visitor at the Leonard home and had been treated with uniform hospitality and kindness. He sought to justify his course by contending it was in the interest of an orphan of the Shepherds. It is gratifying to know that the case was decided in favor of the Leonards and they were confirmed in their possession of the land. It is an interesting fact that Stokely came to bear the appellation of "Land Grabber" and it is stated on reliable authority that he was engaged in no less than twenty actions involving disputes over land.

Now, William, brother of Caleb, as stated, settled to the south in what is now Greene County. His son Lot was a rather eccentric individual, something of a poet and preacher, and is said to have had a religion of his own. He wrote his own hymns. Many of Lot's descendants are living in Greene County today. He died in 1847 at the advanced age of 100, lacking just one month. His will is on file and one passage from it will serve to illustrate his peculiar character: "I also direct that my beloved wife shall pay to my several children as follows: Twenty-five cents to each and every one of them namely, Lot, Isaac, George, Nancy, Leah, Sarah and Malinda." A brother of Lot, Amos Leonard, was a pioneer resident of Knox County, Ohio. He was a preacher--a rather rough and ready one of that day. An anecdote told of him by Ben Butler, an old settler of Knox County, describes Amos as starting his sermons somewhat as follows: "Now, you had better pay the preacher a coonskin or so." Butler said of Amos: "With him it was poor preach and poor pay." It appears on one occasi having been annoyed during a sermon by Butler and a companion, Amos later was passing along a country road when he encountere rise to the land office at Philadelphia and took out a patent in his own name. Meantime previously the Leonards had grown to suspect Bickels's designs and on their part had engaged Thomas Wallace to protect their interests. Wallace hurried to Philadelphia in search of a patent, but Bickels had forestalled him. The Leonards thereupon brought a court action against Bickels for malfeasance in office and petitioned the Court for the appointment of a commission to take testimony of witnesses as to their priority of right. This was done and all testimony is on file and forms a damning indictment against the machinations of Thomas Bickels for all time. His actions were the more reprehensible in that he had frequently been a visitor at the Leonard home and had been treated with unstinted hospitality and kindness. He sought to justify his course by contending it was in the interest of an orphan of the Leonards. It is gratifying to record that the decision was rendered in favor of the Leonards and they were continued in their possession of the land. It is interesting that they promptly came to know the application of "Grand Larceny" and it is stated on reliable authority that it was charged to be from their [illegible] actions involving property [illegible] land.

Rev. William, brother of Caleb, as stated, settled in the woods in what is now Greene Township. His son Lot was a rather remarkable individual, something of a poet and preacher, and is said to have had a religion of his own. He wrote his own hymns. Many of Lot's descendants are living in Greene County today. He died in 1861 at the advanced age of 100, lacking just one month. His will is on file and one passage from it will serve to illustrate his peculiar characteristics: "I also direct that my beloved wife shall pay to my several children as follows: Twenty-five cents to each and every one of them namely, Lot, Isaac, George, Nancy, Mary, Sarah and Belinda." A brother of Lot, Jess Leonard, was a pioneer resident of Knox County, Ohio. He was a preacher--rather rough and ready one of that day. An anecdote told of him by Sam Butler, an old settler of Knox County, describes Jess as shouting his sermons somewhat as follows: "Now, you had better put the preacher a pumpkin or so." Butler said of Jess: "His wife was a good person and good pay." It appears on one occasion, having been engaged during a season by Butler and a companion, Jess later was passing along a country road when he encountered, the two boys hunting some cattle that had strayed, and on coming up to the animals being driven along Amos took off his hat and shook it at them, scaring them so that they were again dispersed. This was his revenge on the boys. Amos' father William, brother of Caleb, made his home with his son in Knox County and died there in 1808, his will being the first one probated in the county.

But to return to Washington County. Gen. George Washingto owned a valuable tract of land lying on Chartiers Creek, some 20 miles from the Leonard homestead. This land had been settled upon by a company of squatters known as "Seceders" on accountof their religious opinions. These interlopers refused to vacate when called on to do so and in 1784 the General found it necessa to make a personal visit to the disputed territory. Negotiation were entered into for the lease or sale of the property but the seceders refused to meet Washington's terms and resolved to stan suit before they would give up their homes. An action for ejectment was thereupon brought and when the case came to trial itwas decided in Washington's favor. There were many land disputesin that day because of the uncertainty in many cases of priority of title.

SARAH HALE LEONARD

The first U. S. Census, taken in 1790, lists a William Hale as resident in Washington County, Pa. It is practically certain that he was a brother of Sarah Hale, daughter of Gideon and Sara Watts Hale, of Middletown, Conn. Sarah was born Feb. 17, 1755. Ebenezer, the father of Gideon Hale, was a son of Samuel Hale, who was born in Wales in 1610 and died at Glastonbury, Conn., i 1695. He was a soldier in the Pequot War. Gideon, the father of William and Sarah, served in the old French and Indian War a was at the storming of Quebec under Gen. Wolfe in 1759 when that gallant officer and the brave Montcalm fell. Many prominent Hal of our day trace their ancestry from Samuel, who emigrated from Wales to America during the early part of the 17th century. Among these may be mentioned Nathan Hale, the martyr spy of the Revolution, and Edward Everett Hale, the noted divine of recent years.

After the Revolution it appears that William Hale left the ancestral home in Connecticut and emigrated to western Pennsylvania. It is possible that his sister Sarah accompanied him. In any event, she was in Washington County about 1790 and there met and married Caleb Leonard of Somerset Township. This must have been about 1792, for by 1798 three children had been born, the youngest of whom was named Avery. The two older ones were Lois and Eleanor. It will be noted that Sarah Hale was the second wife of Caleb Leonard, the first wife, Jemima Minthorn, having died in New Jersey about 1768. Caleb at the time of the birth of his son Avery was 72 years of age and the mother 43.

One can visualize the old man, with grown sons and daughters and grandchildren in plenteous number, again looking on his own minor children--a second family come to cheer his later life. He was not destined to see them grow to maturity on account of the weight of years.

In 1807 mindful of the ultimate end of all earthly existence, although in a vigorous old age, Caleb, the father, was minded to make his will. The instrument was therefore drawn up, witnessed by Abner Leonard, his son, and Joseph Burt, a neighbor. The executors were named as Zenas Leonard, his grandson, and William Burt, another neighbor. The will follows:

WILL OF CALEB LEONARD

"In the name of God Amen, I, Caleb Leonard, of the County of Washington, In the State of Pennsylvania, farmer, being in health of body, and of sound mind, memory and understanding (blessed be God for the same) but considering the uncertainty of this transitory lifr, do make and publish this my last will and testament in manner and form following, to wit:--

In March, 1814, Caleb Leonard, the father, was stricken by the hand of Time and on the 18th passed to his reward. According to the terms of his will his debts were to be paid and in the settlement of his estate the executors made list of all his worldly possessions, holding a sale or "vendue" on the 31st of May. Many household articles and tools belonging to the father were purchased by his elder sons and neighbors gathered together to witness the sale and perchance to buy some needed article. The youthful Avery was minded to purchase his father's old dinner horn and fire tongs, as well as a bound book whose title we can only surmise. It was one of thirteen offered for sale, the lot valued at $8.75. And so the old man was laid to rest in the family lot hard by the residence. Thus passed the sturdy pioneer who had survived so many decades of the history-making events of those early times. He had seen his country grow from a colony to a nation independent. He had seen it grow in wealth and importance. He had witnessed the swelling tide of emigration, ever moving westward. And in a later year his young son Avery was to join that tide and seek a new home in the fertile Ohio country to the west.

The son Avery in his minority asked that his relative, Zenas Leonard, be appointed his guardian. And it was so ordered. For a time mother and son carried on the work of the paternal farm. The sisters in all probability married and settled down in homes of their own prior to the death of the father. By the terms of the will Avery was to come into possession of the plantation when he was 21. And so it came to pass. And in the following year, 1820, another event happened that was of great moment to his after life, for in that year he took to wife Nancy Smith, daughter of Samuel Smith, a prominent Washington County farmer. For a time the young couple remained on the old farm, but in 1821 the spirit and the urge of the pioneer led them to forsake the parental acres and set their faces to the west. The old farm was therefore sold, and carried with the active tide of migration, Avery and his wife Nancy took the route of the Old National Road and journeyed through "Little Washington" to Wheeling, thence onward to Harrison County, Ohio, where they made halt near the town of Deersville. Here among his neighbors, the Moores, the Carsons and the Walkers Avery worked at his trade of blacksmith and here it was that five of his sons were born: Samuel, William Finley, Verden W., Hiram and Levi. The Leonard family does not appear to have been the owner of a farm in Harrison County; however, a deed on file in Cadiz, the county-seat, states that in 1830 Avery Leonard and Nancy, his wife, conveyed to John Scott for the sum of $4.00 a lot in the town of Brownsville, 2 miles northwest of Deersville.

In the year 1834, mindful of the future needs of his growing family of sons when the time should come when they must have homes of their own, Avery left the hills of Harrison County and turned his footsteps toward the newly-opened Indian territory to the northwest, where the land was virgin and level and could be purchased direct from the Government at a low price. He is on record as one of the first patentees of land in Venice Township in Seneca County, his warrant bearing date of Sept. 28, 1835. Soon after their arrival in their new home father and sons began the arduous labor of clearing the land of its growth of timber for the planting of a first crop and the building of a log house. A near neighbor to the west was Maurice Moore, a native of New Jersey who had emigrated to Harrison County at about the same time as the Leonards and came on to Seneca with them. In after years a daughter of this house was to unite with the Leonards, for in 1849 Margaret Jane Moore became the bride of William Finley Leonard, second son of Avery. Other near neighbors were the Carsons and the Kemps. The aged mother, Sarah Hale Leonard, had accompanied her only son to the wilds of Seneca County and here in 1839, at the age of 84, she laid aside the cares of a long and eventful life and was buried in Swamp Cemetery, one of the first places of sepulture in the township. Here also rest the remains of a Revolutionary soldier, Robert Carson, progenitor of many generations of worthy folk of that name resident in and around Venice Township.

The old Leonard farm was carved out of the primeval forest that in 1834 covered most of the county of Seneca. The land was bought from the Government on warrant signed by President Andrew Jackson. But Time moves ever onward and in the passage thereof the works of man are made manifest; and the great labors of the pioneers eventually brought their reward. The Leonard place under the able hands of Avery and his sturdy sons soon became one of the finest in the township. But those sons came to maturity and in time sought to build their own homes, and in the natural course of events, each in his turn, left the parental roof-tree. All except Samuel, who remained on the old farm and took up the labors laid aside by the father, who growing old relinquished active labor and left the cultivation and the care, the sowing and reaping to the son, as many a father had done before him. Avery resided for a time on the Tiffin road near his son William Finley but after the death of his wife, Nancy, in 1873 he made his home with that son, whose tender care he experienced until through a peaceful old age he came to the universal end of all mankind and laid down the cares of life on February 3, 1888. His mortal remains were borne to Swamp Cemetery and laid beside the faithful wife who had preceded him by 15 years.

Of the sons of Avery Leonard, Samuel Hootman, the eldest, was married in 1854 to Mary Mansfield Bailey, of English descent, whose father had been identified with the Great East India Tea Company, of London. Samuel was long known as one of the most progressive farmers of Seneca County. He took pride in the appearance of his buildings and fences and ever built for permanence. He and his wife Mary were blessed with four sons and four daughters: Avery, Benjamin, Walter, Samuel Ellsworth, Nancy Josephine, Mary Ida, Minnie Estella and Della Myrtle. All grew to maturity except Walter, whose young life was cut short through a distressing accident in 1882, when he was struck by a falling hayfork. The father passed from the scene in 1888 in the noonday of life, having been seized with a fatal sickness. Thus passed a most energetic soul, a true representative of the best spirit of the Leonards.

William Finley Leonard, the second son, came to Seneca County with his parents when the country was a wilderness of forest and prairie. Many a time as a boy he heard the howl of the wolf around the log house in the night time. He and his wif- Margaret were not to be given children of their own, but out of the great love and generosity of their natures they gave homes to two children orphaned by the Civil War, Louisa E. Vogel and Harry G. Blaine, who grew to maturity under their tender and fostering care. On December 26, 1902, William Finley was witnessing the felling of some timber on his farm when the bole of a tree swerved unexpectedly in falling and struck him, bearing him to the ground and snuffing out his life. Thuspassed one of Nature's noblemen, a kind, hospitable gentleman, of whom it was universally said that "his word was as good as his bond". He was laid to rest in Bethel Cemetery, just across the road from the church where for so msny years he and his wife so faithfull worshipped. His old home was the scene of many a joyful gathering of friends and ralatives on festive occasions and his memor is revered by those who were the recipients of his bounty and hospitality.

It is a noteworthy fact that two sons of Avery Leonard were killed by falling timber--Verden W. and William Finley.

Levi Leonard became a farmer of Huron County, Ohio, also engaged to some extent in preaching. He was married in 1864 to Esther French and to this union were born two children, L.C.D. and Nellie. Levi died in 1892 and lies buried in Swamp Cemetery.

Avery Hale Leonard became a noted minister of the gospel, residing at Greenwich, Ohio. He was married three times: first, to Jane Tilton; second, to Sarah Tilton, her sister; third, t

Sophia Parker. His five children were named as follows: William Tilton, Jane Ora, Elva Ellen, Mary Bertha and Cora F., the last named dying in infancy. Avery Hale died in 1901 and is buried in Ripley Cemetery adjacent to Ripley Congregational Church where for 21 years he so faithfully served his flock. His eloquence and pleasing personality will long be remembered by all.

Jonathan Leonard, youngest son of Avery and Nancy Smith Leonard, was born Oct. 20, 1838, in Venice Township. In early life he was a teacher; later became the inventor of an ingenious knitting machine and a vendor of medicines. He married Eliza Sheeley and was the father of five sons: Burritt, Oscar, Elmer, Bella and Albert, also one daughter. Jonathan died in 1918 and is buried in Swamp Cemetery.

The two daughters of Avery and Nancy Leonard both died young: Sarah Ann at the age of 17 and Angeline, an infant, at the age of 4 months.

We have now brought our Leonard story down to the 7th generation from Solomon of Duxbury. A few words relative to the older sons of Caleb Sr. and his first wife, Jemima Minthorn, of Mendham, half-brothers of Avery, may not here be amiss. Of these sons Caleb Jr., the eldest, became a well-known farmer of Somerset Twp. in Washington County and resided there adjacent to his father. Many worthy descendants still remain in western Pennsylvania. Caleb Jr. married Sarah Burt. He and his younger brother William married sisters and the two brothers lie buried in the cemetery at Beallsville, Pa. Interesting anecdotes are told of William Leonard by his granddaughter, Harriet Leonard Fishburn, who is still living in New Jersey at the age of 90. She says of him: "My grandfather was an amiable, mild-tempered Christian gentleman, beloved by all who knew him. He was an elder in the Presbyterian Church for over forty years. He was a dignified, dressy man; he wore knee breeches, beautiful stockings and garters with silver buckles. One time I sat on his knee and he told me the following story: "Once when I was a young man I shot a deer (a buck) and my mother, Jemima Leonard, had the hide tanned and made me a pair of buckskin breeches. Years afterwards when my daughters would sit on my lap as little children, they would point to the bullet hole in the leg and say: "That's where father killed the deer." My father sitting near said: "Father, do you remember the day we were hunting in the Flat Woods when game was so plentiful and you shot a wild turkey off a high tree?" "Yes, I do", said he, "and that turkey was so large and fat that it burst open when it hit the ground." My father, Benjamin, was at his father's bedside when the old man died and Grandfather dying said: "Benjamin, Goodbye. I am about to cross cold Jordan, but I am not afraid."

Isaac Leonard, second son of Caleb, was a justice of the peace in Washington County and was known as Squire Leonard. He lived neighbor to his father and brothers in Somerset Township and served as lieutenant of militia during and after the Revolution, He is believed to have emigrated to Ohio about 1826, as an Isaac Leonard is mentioned as one of the pioneers of Delaware County and the owner of the land on which grew up the town of Leonardsburg.

Silas, third son of Caleb, was born in 1755 and died in Columbiana County, Ohio, in 1851, having attained the age of 96. He was a major of militia in Washington County, Pa., after the Revolution and lies buried in the cemetery at East Palestine, Ohio.

Abner, fourth son of Caleb, lived in Washington County near his father and brothers. He went to Delaware Co., Ohio, 1825.

The line of descent of the family from the original immigrant, Solomon Leonard, to the sons of Avery is as follows:

Plymouth, Mass., 1630.
(2) Isaac, his son, born 1650.
(4) Benjamin, born 1692 at Taunton, Mass. Went to N.J. 1740 fall of 1876. He owns 120 acres of excellent land in a good state of cultivation. Mr. Fisher is a self-made man. When he arrived in this county he had nothing but a few household goods and $25 in money. He has been a hard-working man, and experienced all the hardships that fall to the lot of the pioneer. His educational advantages were very limited in his youth, but he has secured a good practical education, and is well informed on the general topics of the day. Politically he affiliates with the Democratic party; religiously he is a member of the United Brethren church, and has served as steward in that church.

HENRY J. SHATTO, farmer, section 10, Harrison Township, Kosciusko County, Indiana, is a native of Trumbull County, Ohio, born June 23, 1827, a son of John and Margaret Shatto, of German and Irish descent. When he was seven years old his parents moved to Portage County, Ohio, and from there, five years later, to Mercer County, Pennsylvania, where they lived about six years, when they returned to Ohio and located in what is now a part of Mahoning County. From there they moved to Stark County, and in the fall of 1850 to Indiana and settled in DeKalb County. Mr. Shatto, our subject, came to Indiana in 1851, and with the exception of a short time spent in Nebraska, has since lived in Kosciusko County. He owns a good farm of forty acres, all under cultivation, and is one of the prominent and influential citizens of the county. He was married July 12, 1849, to Lucinda Wood, of Stark County, Ohio. She died October 8, 1869. They had a family of seven children—Elmira J., wife of Benjamin Blue; Mary F., deceased; Hannah M., wife of Samuel Mentzer; Ezra M., of Nebraska; Sarah E., wife of Henry Morgan; Jesse J., of Nebraska, and Catherine L., at home. February 17, 1870, Mr. Shatto married Eunice Holloway, widow of Robert Holloway, and daughter of Elisha and Diantha Sheldon, early settlers of Kosciusko County, coming here from Vermont in 1843. Mrs. Shatto had seven children by her first marriage, three of whom are living— Francis M., of Nebraska; Ellen E., wife of Jesse Lawyer, of Sherman County, Kansas, and Olive, wife of James Gullion, of Nebraska. In politics Mr. Shatto is a Republican. He has served his township as school director. He and his wife are members of the Christian church.

CHARLES KLOUS, farmer, section 12, Scott Township, was born in Stark County, Ohio, son of Michael and Christiana (Shaffer) Klous, the former a native of Byron, Germany, and the latter of France. The father immigrated to this country in 1832, settling in Stark County. He was married about the year 1836. Mrs. Klous was a daughter of Phillip Shaffer, a native also of Germany. Mr. and Mrs. Klous were the parents of three children — Charles, George M., and one unnamed that died in infancy. Mr. Klous came to Scott Township in 1850 and purchased forty acres of unimproved land, afterward adding forty acres more, which he improved and sold in 1882. Our subject was twelve years of age when he came to this county. He lived at home until he was twenty-three years of age, and September 25, 1850, was married to Miss Fanny Snively, daughter of George and Susanna (Good) Snively, of Scott Township, natives of Pennsylvania. To this union three children were born — Susan C. married

[The three following branches of the family trace their ancestry in America to Northampton county, Pennsylvania, which was erected out of territory formerly in Bucks county by act of the Assembly, March 11, 1752. On March 21, 1772, Northumberland county was formed from parts of Lancaster, Berks, Cumberland, Bedford and Northampton. March 21, 1798, Wayne; March 1, 1811, Schuylkill; March 6, 1812, Lehigh; April, 1836, Monroe, and in 1843 Carbon counties were formed out of Northampton. From the similarity of Christian names and other considerations it is probable that the three branches are related.]

One branch, if not the original, is descended from Andrew Ohl who came to Philadelphia county from Hesse Cassel, Germany, in 1750. There are a large number of his descendants in Southeastern Pennsylvania. On August 26, 1892, they held a reunion at Bloomsburg, Columbia county, attended by over 150 relatives. The first descendant of especial prominence was:

I. Henry Ohl, who, according to Boyd Trescott, of Millville, Pa., was the son of Andrew; but, according to Rev. John Wallis Ohl, of Salida, Col., Henry was the son of Michael, who was born at Perkiomen Creek, Montgomery county, Pa. The records of the Pension Department show that Henry Ohl enlisted August 1, 1777, from Philadelphia as sergeant under Capt. Mathias Shively and Col. Potts Later he served as lieutenant under Capts. Peter Richards and Andrew Reed. In 1778 he also served six months as lieutenant. He was engaged at the battle of Germantown. On November 7, 1832, he applied for and secured a pension, being in his 79th year and a resident of Columbia county. According to Rev. John Wallis Ohl, Henry Ohl enlisted as a private in 1775, at the age of nineteen, was promoted to orderly sergeant at the battle of Germantown, where his captain and lieutenant feigned sickness and he took the company into battle. He was immediately promoted to captain and before the war closed to Lieut.-Col. of his regiment. Gov. Mifflin commissioned him colonel of militia of Northampton county and Gov. Snyder appointed him justice of the peace of Northumberland county. He held the latter office until the justices were elected by the people, and was then elected three times but served two terms and resigned. Henry Ohl first settled in Union county, but appointed agent for Gen. Hiester's land in Columbia county, he removed to Hemlock township in 1804. He died in 1840 and was buried in the Union cemetery at Bloomsburg. He married Margaret Dorothy Sittsman, and they had issue:

i. George.
ii. Henry.
iii. Andrew.
iv. Michael.
v. John.
vi. Polly, m. John Rinker.
vii. Margaret, m. John Betz.
viii. Catharine; m. John Jacoby.

The second or "Ohio" branch descended (probably) from Michael Ohl, of Lehigh county, Pa. He had (among others unknown):

I was just looking through a list of Mar. that I have gleaned off of LDS Records.
Do you have this list. If not, I will try to type it off & send it to you, or when I get the scanner going, I will scann it off and send it. I have a new scanner, & am not sure about what all I can do with it, as yet.
The Nicholas you mention perhaps is Nicholas II. There is Nicholas, & a Nicholas II in the Cens. Index. Don't know what I did with my list right now. Will look for it, & re work the census now that I have found the other names. I do not have access to a printed Cens. index. I am working from a CD Rom.
Do you know for sure that your Margaret was the dau./o John? My family did not name a child John.
They were gr. for naming their children for family preceeding.
Among the really early marriages--Trumbull Co. Oh
Lois Leonard md Samuel TUTTLE 22 Oct 1812
Margaret/John SHATTO 29 Sep 1825 (yours)
Margaret/Henry K. Hulse 14 Dec 1837 (could this be the same as above)
Mary/Thomas Smith 15 Nov 1841
Melissa/Daniel GLASS 16 Nov 1843
Nancy/John SMITH 1 May 1821
Nancy/Andrew SMITH 17 Apr 1831
Nancy/William ERNEST no day May 1839
& a 2nd listing for 18 May 1840 must be some kind of mistake.
Peggy/John SHATTO 29 Sep 1825 a 2nd listing of above.
Salino/Milo HURD 10 Aug 1837
Salrissa/Jacob CLINE 18 Oct 1835

I have mar. recordings for other OHIO counties, but these above are all Trumbull Co.
Good to find someone with information about early pioneers to Trumbull Co.

> out! It is a scary thought when Fritz is keeping me organized!! Have a good weekend!Beth

I had not seen the History that you mentioned.
I live in Oregon, Many miles from there, so it is dif. to do the work.
Also am about 50 Mi. from an LDS Lib. which I only feel is good for clues--Nothing more. I have had such horrible luck with people from my own family putting information on their anc. that positively IS NOT TRUE, & I had primary sources to prove it.

Every time the church does one of these big pitches to put in as many anc. as possible, they seem to get more info. that is not always correct. For years I have fought the situation where a man put in information that my Gr. Grandmother Sophyna Lorinda Leonard had md Robert Crawford Eakin (absolutely untrue) Robert Crawford was a brother to my Gr Grandfather who died in the Civil War. I have the records (Mil. Pens. File) that proves she md. John Henry Eakin. There is still a man advertising on Ancestry.com that he is desc. from the Robert Crawford Eakin & a Lorinda Sophina Leonard. Robert was the next younger one in the family, & never left Penn. He had 2 wives there and was producing kids like mad in PA. He was not my ideal at all, as I have info that he more or less wheedled the old folks out of the fam. farm, after they had lost 4 children in 2 years (adults, 2 in Civ. War. one in an Oil Well Accid. & a dau. died.) He must have told them he would care for them for life or something. Yet, I find after the 2nd wife died, Grandma is the one doing the caring for his family. (A little Sour Grapes.) Ha. I even sent the man a copy of the Mil. papers, & a copy of John & Sophyna's Mar. Rec. & a copy of their Bible Rec. with their youngest dau.'s family all listed, & he is from that family, but he still has not changed the listing on the internet. So I will go back to my primary sources, for most things.

Thank you so much for what you sent. If you find anything further to help. Would apprec. hearing from you.

I can't locate my gorgeous book on Iris. Did I accidentally leave it there? It has a computer manipulated iris on the front with a light green background. It is a large coffee table book.

I am getting more absentminded with each year.
Thanks.

Jacob Abraham Leonard was born abt 1810 in Trumbull Co. OH. I believe he may be the son of Nicholas Leonard. He married in Portage Co. 14 Feb 1833 to Sarah Carter, dau/o James Carter from Deerfield Twp. Portage Co. He lived in Portage Co. near the Carters in the 1840 Cens. by 1850 he was in Stark Co. headed west with his family. Children as below.
Sophyna Lorinda Leonard B- 11 Apr 1834 Portage Co. Oh
James Sylvester Leonard B-13 Nov 1837 Portage Co. Oh.
Abraham Simpson Leonard B- 9 Apr 1839 Portage Co. OH.
Aaron Edward Leonard B- 1840 Portage Co. Oh. D-Tama Co. IA
Charles Nicholas Leonard B- 13 July 1841 Portage Co. Oh.
Harmon Biddle Leonard B- 12 Aug 1843 nr Canton, StarkCo. Oh.
Daniel Leonard B- abt 1849 D-after 1850 Cens.
Laura Ellen Leonard B- 1853 Tama Co. IA.

May have been other children, but these are what I know of by 1850 Cens. & by contact with Desc. of this family.
The family after the death of Jacob in 1855 in Tama Co. IA. moved on to MO.
Would like contact with anyone knowing children of Nicholas Leonard, or with ideas of who the Parents may be. I am guessing that there are clues in middle names of the sons, as to what the Mothers last name may have been.

I meant on the list that your ancestor was shown as Margaret, & then again as Peggy. Of course Peggy is usually a nickname for Margaret. They each had the same dates and everything. I may have put that note, where it did not wrap correctly, when the sheet was shortened as the window is smaller than what I typed on.
I found I missed one David/ who md Sarah Leonard on 10 Apr 1845 There are quite a few from Ashtabula Co. as well, do you want those???
I did see a Sylvester Leonard in the list. Jacob and Sarah Carter Leonard named one of their children James Sylvester, do you suppose he could have been a younger brother???
I have long thought that there must be a surname of Biddle locked into this family somewhere. One of the twins of John Henry Eakin-Sophyna Lorinda Leonard was named Oliver Biddle Eakin. & one of Sophyna's Brothers was Harmon Biddle Leonard. I still feel there is a strong possibility that this is a surname in the family from somewhere.
I would be more than happy to pay for copying of any material that you might come up with. My Snail Mail addy is

` I have always heard the lib. at Ft. Wayne is one of the very best. It would be such fun to be able to go someplace like that. I went to Wash D.C. and got into the archives where you could get any Vet.'s papers for the price of copying. I had a hayday.
It was fantastic. Another time I went to the Salt Lake Lib. & took a course sponsored by the Nat. Gen.Soc. Had a cousin who was into Gen. also. We were there for a week. But after about the 4th day, of working and attending classes both, I got such a headache, & got so stopped up from the dust & Must of the books I thought. Anyway was hard to think after while.
Thanks for any help you can give me.

> Hi, Emma - Thanks for the list. The second Margaret on the list who married Henry K. Hulse cannot be the same as the Margaret who married John Shatto. My Margaret remained married to John Shatto until her death. In the next few days I will look out material from my files to send to you. I am fortunate enough to live about 45 miles from the Allen County Public Library in Ft. Wayne, Indiana. It has a great genealogy department. Since my husband is working on his genealogy, too, we go there frequently.
> Yes, I'm sure that Margaret's father was named John. I mentioned that I wasn't sure whether this line of Leonards was of English or German descent, but I am leaning toward German. What I have found in my other German lines is that the first son would be named John (actually, Johannes), and the other sons would be named Johann Nicholas, or Johann George, etc., and would go by the middle name. Eventually, the family would give up this naming pattern and be more like the English in naming

It is refreshing to find someone who is working somewhat on the same family as I am. I would guess that the Nicholas Leonard was NOT a son of John, but he could be. This morning when I found John, Nicholas, & William in the same twp. This was a new one to me. I had never heard of the William previously. Not even among the stuff that Margaret had sent me.

I haven't dug deeply enough to find it, but several years back, there was a lady in Del. or Md. & she was attempting to put all LEONARD information into families. I corresponded with her for quite a while, but somehow I cannot find her letters. Of courswe I have Boxes of materials, some not filed. So I may just have to run across her letters sometime when not looking for that particularly.

I had gathered from the Wm. & Samuel (I think it was) that at that time they were all from John. I sent you the dif. in twps. as to where they were living. I think they went to Berlin Twp. in about 10 yrs. later. Will have to look that up. My pile gets deeper and deeper. Am going to have to stop and file, clean up the piles, & then start out again. Ha.

Thanks so much for the 2 enclosures. Will print those out, & have that with my Leonard stuff now.

> I have been at a standstill on the Leonards for approximately a year, I think. My aunt lent me her books, and I made copies of her stuff, and I have searched on my own. It appears that there is no connection to any of the English Leonards, except that John Leonard supposedly lived in Washington & Greene Counties, PA, before he moved to Ohio, and the Washington & Greene county Leonards seem to have descended from one of the English Leonards. I have looked at Huffmans, too, but that is another prolific family. One question I have had about the Nicholas Leonard who settled in Trumbull/Mahoning at the same time John Leonard did is whether he was John's son or brother. Maybe we will find answers to our questions eventually.

I just now went to the Tax Records, on Genealogy.com. I find there are three Leonards John, Nicholas & William all on the Tax records of Trumbull, Ellsworth Twp. for 1810.

Although we have NO Williams that come up this late in the Hist. of the Leonards, or the Eakin families, This would be another possibility. But somhow, at this point I just have a strong GUT feeling I should be heading for Nicholas.

I am sure you have explored ALL of these possibilities in your work with the Leonard family.

I tried to pull up the History that you mentioned, but had no luck. I do have the capabilites of searching the Lib. from here, but had no luck. Will work at it some more. One thing I have learned through the years is to be persistant. Emma Jean

I worked for many years with Margaret Froebel. Probably we exchanged data for at least 15 yrs. We could never get through on the material. I have lost contact with her. Her husband was about to retire, & this is the last that I have heard from her, although I have written several times. Yes, we are of the same line. She from Charles Nicholas, I from John Henry Eakin & Sophyna Lorinda Leonard.

I have the papers that you sent through this morning from her. I am going to write to Mahoning Co. & see if there is someone there that could look up and gather information about the Nicholas Leonard line. It is apparent that we do not come out of the Nicholas desc. from John. Cannot see that we come out of any of the others, but I may be a bit blind.

I really would Like to break through on the Leonard's as it has been a dead end for so many years.

Thanks so much for your help. It is nice to know someone else is out there working on some of the same people that I am. I feel that prob. John & Nicholas were brothers, although that would remain to be proven. Nicholas may have very well been a Rev. Soldier also.

Will write again soon. Will go back and study the papers that Margaret had sent years ago, May even try to find her, by calling the operator, or better yet, wait until I get my new Phone Disc of America. It may tell where they have moved to. I find those Phone discs just indispensible. I have found so many people that way. I don't get a new one, only about every 6 yrs. There is supposed to be someway to do that via internet, but I haven't learned that one yet.

In looking over the estate papers, you sent, I had not REALLY read them. Nicholas I must have died Nov 1813. He had Children below.
1-Henry may be one who md Sarah Farrah 01 Sep 1835
2-James prob. md Susan Waggoner 26 Oct 1830
3-George no possible listing for this one
4-John two possible listings for John in 1st list sent.
5-Nicholas we don't have a listing for this one either
6-David one md in 1817 another in 1845
7-Rachel md Wm Robinson/Robertson
8-Benjamin md Electa COGSWELL 23 Jan 1845 Trumbull Co
Do you suppose Fanny was a nickname for Electa? I doubt it.
9-Sally There was a Salino listed, a Salrissa listed & a several Sarah's Sally is sometimes a nickname for Sarah. But no listing synonamous with James Burnett.
10-Peggy md John Shatto 29 Sep 1825 This is no doubt your Margaret as Peggy is nickname for Margaret. So we have 11 Dorothy md David SWARTZ 28 Jan 1846 Astabula Co.
She was living there in her Dad's will.

I have a thought. I am the one who helps fill out papers for people for DAR. If we can find there is a listing for him, that someone has gone into DAR on him, I can get his papers for almost nothing at Headquarters. If not, you will have to send to The Nat. Archives, & ask for papers for his Records. Sometimes these list the children of the Vet. Sometimes not.
Let me know what you are thinking about all of my putting stuff together.
Do you have a Fam. Gr. Sheet for Him prepared?

In volumn 2 of HISTORY OF TRUMBULL AND MAHONING COUNTIES, there are some mentions of John and Nicholas. I don't know if you have seen this book? Anyway, John and Nicholas Leonard bought property in Ellsworth - must have been about 1804. On page 99, there is a paragraph on Nicholas' family: Nicholas Leonard settled one mile from the centre. He had a large family, seven sons and five daughters. Abram, the youngest son, resides in Wood county, and a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Swartz, in Astabula county." I have not been able to go back beyond John. According to family, he was a Revolutionary War soldier, a Ranger on the Frontier. In the record, it says that he was born in 1755, in New Jersey. My aunt spent years trying to connect him to the Leonards that were iron-workers, with no success. There was another branch of that family that settled in Washington & Greene counties in Pennsylvania (the area from which John supposedly migrated to Ohio). But we haen't been able to find a connection to them either. My aunt was in contact with someone who believed that John's family was actually of German descent.*

Carolyn    I went to my CD that lists everyone in the 1810 Cens. for all over.
I ran it for Trumbull Co.   Only found two there,  both shown on Pg 12  of the Trumbull Co. Cens.
They were Nicholas    &    William

Then in 1820  I find the following  in Ohio.
Caleb on pg 231  Bazetta Twp.  Trumbull Co.
David Leonard,  George,  Nicholas I & Nicholas I I  & Samuel all
Ellsworth Twp  Trumbull  shown pgs 242 & 243.

Going back to my Marriage Work
David had md Anna Calhoon   24 Feb 1817
Nicholas had md Isabella Calhoon  13 Dec 1813
Samuel who md Margaret Smith  23 Feb 1819,

1830 Cens  index  shows.  William & Samuel  trumbull Co.  pge 273  Berlin Twp
Nicholas & George  Ellsworth Twp  pge 269
& a David listed in Jackson Co. Jackson Twp.  pge 126.

Did not find John in 1810 or 1820 Census listing for Trumbull Co.  But did find him in 1830 in Lordstown  pg 196  Trumbull Co.

I still wonder if I am not desc.  from Nicholas Leonard.

Thought this little bit of prelim. work might help you out.

Carolyn,   I went to my CD that lists everyone in the 1810 Census. You will see.
I ran it for Trumbull Co.   Only found two Sheeks, both being on Pg 12, in the Trumbull Co. Ohio.
They were Nicholas   &   William

Then in 1820  I find the following  in Ohio.
Caleb on Pg 210  Bazetta Twp.  Trumbull Co
David Leonard,  George,  Nicholas I & Nicholas I.I. & Samuel all   [illegible]
Ellsworth Twp.  Trumbull  shown pgs 144 & 145.

Going back to my Marriage Work
David had md Anne Carlton   16 Feb 1811
Nicholas had md Isabella Carlton  13 Feb 1817
Samuel who md Margaret Smith  13 Feb 1816.

1830 Cens.  Caleb shows.  William & Samuel  Trumbull Co.  pgs 292  Bazetta Twp.
Nicholas & George.  Ellsworth Twp.  pgs 158
& a David Listed in Portage Co. Deerfield Twp.  pgs 145.

Did not find Jobe in 1810 or 1820 census listing for Trumbull Co.  But did find him in 1830 in Bazetta, pg 298  Trumbull Co.

I still wonder if I am not desc.  from Nicholas Leonard.

Thought this little bit of gossip, data might help you out.

John$^4$ R. LEONARD, one of the best known and most prominent citizens of the bourough of Washington, was born 7 Dec. 1821, Morris Twp., Washington Co., PA, of Teutonic descent. His great grandfather, ( $^1$), came from Germany to America many years ago. He had a son, John$^2$, born in Ohio, where he married Nancy (HUFFMAN) of Washington Co., PA. They had a son, John$^3$, who married Rebecca ROBERTSON and had a son, John$^4$ R. LEONARD. (over)

John$^3$ LEONARD, was born in Washington Co., PA, and reared and educated there. Settled at Morris Twp., m. Rebecca, d/o John ROBERTSON, of Morris Twp. They had ten children. About one or two years after their marriage, John and Rebecca moved from Morris twp., to Ohio, where they died. John $^4$ R. was a baby when the family moved to Ohio, where, in Warren and Trumbull Counties, he learned the trade of carpentry, at which he worked for more than 46 years. He returned to Washington Co., PA, 5 June 1845 and settled on a farm in Morris Twp., which he operated at the same time he was carrying on his trade (carpentry). He built many of the best houses in that and East Finley Twps., besides some in Greene Co., OH, on the boundary line. On 22 Jan. 1846, he married Miss Matilda, s/o Stacy FARABEE, of Morris Twp. They had two children (over). After Matilda died 3 June 1891, John R. married second, Mrs. Henrietta (HIXENBAUGH) FARABEE, widow of Benjamin FARABEE (he died Nov. 1884) by whom she had three children. Henrietta was born in Allegheny Co., MD, d/o Aaron and Rachel (COLEMAN) HIXENBAUGH. They were both members of the Methodist-Protestant Church.

22 Sep. 1869, Mr. LEONARD came to Washington Bourough, taking up his residence in the house where he now lives, and which he built. In 1847, he joined the Methodist-Eqiscopal, (Mt. Zion) Church, but later changed to the Methodist-Protestant denomination. He was a democrat.

MNF note: I'm a little mixed up, but I think that the second marriage occurred, 16 Mar. 1892.

Jacob Abraham LEONARD

Some birth dates are too close together. Aaron's tombstone disagrees with the 1850 census, whi gives his age as 9 yrs, making him be born in 1840-41. We have descendants' records for all th dates for all the children except Aaron and Laura Ellen.

p. 2 Jacob Abraham LEONARD

Martha and Elvira/Elmira were daughters of John R. VANCE (widower) and Margaret DANNER VANCE (deceased by 1860). Elvira d. 26 Dec. 1867, Leon, Decatur Co., Iowa, without issue.

John Henry EAKIN b. 26 Jan. 1832, Venango, Pa. d. 26 Nov. 1864, Kansas City, Mo., hospital as a result of wounds received in the "Battle of Big Blue" (Blue Mountain, Ks.). Charles N. LEONARD attended J. H. E. as a nurse at the hospital. Where is John EAKIN buried?

Abraham Simpson LEONARD and wife #2, Martha BLAYLOCK were living in Ridge, Montana in 1914. Laura Ellen and John SPENCER may have gone with Sophyna and her 2nd husband, when they left Missouri by wagon train for Oregon. Sophyna's youngest daughter, Sarah, married a BLAYLOCK.

Mandana SPENCER was b. 1844, Putnam Co., Ind. and d. 6 Sep. 1871.

Who is Mary LEONARD b. 16 May 1831, d. 21 Feb. 1918, buried in Greenridge Cemetery, Bogle Twp., Gentry Co., Mo. Charles and Martha (VANCE) LEONARD are buried there also.(my ggparents).

Did Sarah (CARTER) LEONARD m/2 John R. VANCE, widowed father of Martha and Elmira/Elvira VANCE? John R. VANCE m. Sarah LEONARD, 17 Jan. 1864, Worth Co., Mo. Sarah VANCE died intestate in Worth Co., Mo. The date of appointment of Administrator de bonis non was 10 Oct. 1875. No probate, death or cemetery records have been found for Sarah LEONARD who supposedly died in Worth Co., Mo., 13 May 1865.

According to the History of Northwest Missouri, James CARTER came to America to fight with the British in the War of 1812, and stayed. He settled on a government tract in Portage Co., Ohio. So far no records have been found to substantiate this.

My cousin who is doing research now in D.C. is descended from #1 Sophyna (Leonard) Eakin.

JOHN LEONARD
NO TOMBSTONE
OHIO REC. 2

A-15

June 13, 1974

Mrs. Doyle DeVoe
R R 1
Kendallville, Ind. 46755

Dear Mrs. DeVoe;

Your letter was forwarded to me by Mary Jane Henney, Cemetery Chairman of the Ohio Genealogical Society. As Cemetery Chairman (and new president) of the Mahoning Co. Chapter of the Ohio Genealogical Society, I offered to help Mrs. Henney with requests concerning this area. I am sorry you have had to wait for an answer. This is my fault, not Mary Jane's.

I gave all my cemetery material to my new cemetery chairman for him to look over, and I couldn't seem to reach him by phone to have him check for your John Leonard. I finally talked to him last evening and we do not have a stone for John Leonard at the Ellsworth Cemetery. That cemetery has not been completely copied yet, but I am reasonably certain that we have all the really old stones (which are all in the front area of the cemetery). Incidentally, Ellsworth Township is now in Mahoning Co., which was formed from Trumbull Co. in 1846.

There are only two cemeteries in Ellsworth Twp. The large cemetery, very old and still in use, is the Ellsworth Cemetery near the Centre. There is also a small cemetery at Geeburg. John Leonard is not there either. Many early burials of people in Ellsworth were made in the Canfield Village Cemetery and the Old North Cemetery (also in Canfield Twp.).. Old North is the German Lutheran and Reformed Cemetery. Canfield Village was a community cemetery--one of the oldest in the area. It has not been completely copied either, but most of the old stones are on record and there is no John Leonard. I also have a list of early burials for the Canfield Cemetery (1800-1831) which I copied from an old manuscript history at Western Historical Society Library. The only Leonard burials which appear in it are for two children of "Mr. Leonard" and I'm enclosing them.

OLD NORTH CEM HAS BEEN copied completely - NO Leonards.

I will keep a card in my file on this and should I come across a stone for John Leonard, I will send it immediately. I am also sending an abstract of the estate record for John Leonard, which would indicate that he died in 1813. [Note that these records are in the Trumbull Co. courthouse because Mahoning was not formed until 184 As I have indicated on the enclosed page, this information was abstracted by Mrs. Grace Winnagle some years ago. When I went up to the Trumbull Co. Chapter meeting on Tuesday, I checked her unpublished material which now belongs to Mrs. Harshman and copied this information for you. I doubt that there would be further informatio on the estate at the courthouse, since the only probate information is that in the probate record books. Trumbull County did not begin to keep packets on estates until about 1840. However, you might want to send for a copy of the quitclaim deed. It is possible that it would be of help to have it in its entirety, although Mrs. Winnagle was an accomplished genealogist and abstractor--and her work is usually very reliable.

It just occurred to me that, perhaps, you already have these court records. I hope I'm not sending you things you already have--and that this will be of some help to you. If you need the information from the Williams county history, mentioned in the enclosed papers, I will be glad to send it to you. That history is in reprint now, though, and they probably have it at Fort Wayne Public Library and the Indiana State Library. Let me know if I can help you further.

Sincerely

INTRODUCTION

The Act for the first census to be taken was passed at the second session of the First Congress and was signed by President Washington on March 1,1790.

This census was to include free white males over sixteen years of age,free white males under sixteen years of age,free white females,all other free persons and slaves.

These lists for Virginia,as well as several other states,were destroyed when the British burnt Washington during the War of 1812 so an effort was made to locate duplicates but there seemed to be only some copies of State enumerations extant.

My effort has been to make use of the first personal property tax lists for those counties then extant in order to supply this deficiency. The lists are not absolutely conclusive since some men did not pay taxes if they were indigent,exempt for physicial disabilities or if they held certain political or military offices.However,in some instances we find that some of the latter paid on some of their personalty.

Ordinarily it would have seemed wiser to have published the tax payers as they occurred in the original lists but in all but ten of the counties they have already been letter grouped by the enumerators so that any value as to neighbors has been destroyed.

Fayette and Lincoln Counties of the present Kentucky have been included,then being in Virginia, but the lists for Jefferson County having been removed to Kentucky could not be included as I am only using those lists in our State Archives.

The first tax assesments were ordered to be made in the year 1782 but some of them are not to be found so they were used for the extant counties,not included in the first census,at the first date to be found: Accomac for the year 1787; Augusta for the year 1782; Bedford for the year 1782; Berkeley for the year 1782;Botetourt for 1784; Brunswick for 1782; Buckingham for the year 1782; Campbell County for 1785; Caroline for 1783;Charles City for 1783; Culpeper County for 1783; Dinwiddie County for the year 1782; Elizabeth City for the year 1782; Fauquier County for the year 1782; Fayette,for the year 1787; Goochland County for 1782; Hardy County for the year 1786;Henrico County for the year 1782; Henry County for 1782; James City County for the year 1782; King George County for the year 1782; King & QueenCounty 1782; King William County 1782; Lincoln,1787; Louisa County year 1782; Louden County 1782; Lunenburg County 1782; Montgomery County 1782; Northampton County 1782; Prince George County 1782; Prince William County 1782; Rockbridge County 1782;Southampton County 1782; Spotsylvania,1782; Washington County 1782; Westmoreland County 1783; York County 1784.
